Girl Named in Divorce Admits She Loves Banker

WOULDN'T CARE IF HE HADN'T A DIME

Chandler Mason Wood Is Accused by Wife, Who Lives in Winchester

Mrs. Ruth Cheney Wood of No. 12 Sheffield street, Winchester, filed suit for divorce in the Middlesex Superior Court today, against her husband, Chandler Mason Wood, widely-known banker, lawyer, professor and lecturer.

She named as co-respondent Miss Theresa Whalen, attractive manager of the women's suits department of a large store on Fifth avenue, New York city.

Miss Whalen, anticipating the divorce action, plainly admitted her love for Wood and asserted that although she believed him to be impoverished, she was indifferent to his financial condition.

"I wouldn't give a damn if Chan didn't have a dime," said Miss Whelan at her home, the Hollywood Hotel, New York. "I love him and I am not ashamed of it. I realize that the filing of the divorce suit will create a lot of scandal, but Chan and I have talked it over and we are willing to face it."

NOW A LECTURER

Although is listed in Who's Who as a member of a Boston law firm, president of a bank and college lecturer, Wood's sole source of income at present, according to Miss Whalen, is infrequent lectures at Eastern law schools. In the past he enjoyed a generous income from his various activities.

Wood it is charged, has paid many visits lately to Miss Whalen at the New York hotel.

The Woods were married in Brookline on June 28, 1913. They established a home in Winchester two years later. Mrs. Wood asks the custody of the three children, Mar-

ROUSES GUESTS IN HOTEL FIRE

HELEN E. EDGECOMB

Former actress, who ran through hotel, waking seventy persons, when fire was discovered

Groping her way through smoke-filled corridors in the Ambassador Hotel, No. 316 Washington street, Lynn, of which she is the owner, Helen E. Edgecomb, former actress, roused sleeping guests when fire broke out in the basement.

Seventy men and women were driven to the street in their night-clothing by the blaze, which caused damage estimated at $10,000. The cause was undetermined.

While firemen were fighting the blaze, handicapped by their ladders taking fire, thieves looted the rooms of the guests of the house. Watches, rings, wearing apparel and other articles were missed by the occupants when they returned to their rooms after the fire was extinguished.

The fire was discovered by Miss Edgecomb, who smelled smoke and traced it to the basement. She then started through the house rousing the guests, after having summoned the fire department.

Many of the guests were assisted through the smoke-filled halls by firemen and police, and several were carried down ladders.

BEATS OFF FOUR MEN IN SOUTH END 'HOLDUP'

Fruit and confectionery flew around the little shop of Paul Pambookian at No. 488½ Columbus avenue, South End, when Paul, a man of stature, with the aid of a single friend, successfully gave battle to four men who attacked him.

After the police swept away the fruit salad they found Paul clinging desperately to two of the alleged attackers. One of them was groaning with a badly split lip, the other helpless in Paul's grip.

Aleo Nayikim, friend of the game proprietor, helped him by sending

DO YOU WANT A CONSTRUCTIVE STATESMAN?

THEODORE ROOSEVELT wrote, in 1910, of LA FOLLETTE: "Thanks to the movement for genuinely democratic government which Senator La Follette led to overwhelming victory in Wisconsin, that State has become literally a laboratory for wise experimental legislation aiming to secure the social and political betterment of the people as a whole."

SENATOR DAVID I. WALSH wrote, in 1922, of LA FOLLETTE: "If I were asked who in the United States Senate was the most conspicuous peoples' Senator—and by that I mean, of course, the freest and most untrammeled spokesman for the rights of the people—I should unhesitatingly name Robert Marion La Follette."

FRANK P. WALSH (former Joint Chairman of the War Labor Board) has written of LA FOLLETTE: "Robert M. La Follette is in my opinion the greatest living American Statesman."

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE (famous Editor and Anti-Klan candidate for Governor of Kansas) wrote, in 1922, of LA FOLLETTE: "Always La Follette has been brave. His is not the courage of the man who tears down, but the courageous wisdom of the builder."

EVERETT GIRL WEDS SECRETLY

Marion Holburn and George Heck Surprise Relatives by Eloping to New York

When Miss Marian Holburn of Everett failed to appear for work today as usual at the Malden Electric Company, where she was employed as a private secretary, her office friends startd making inquiries.

Instead of finding her ill at home, as they supposed, they learned she was in New York honeymooning with George Heck of Everett, following a secret marriage Saturday night in Boston.

Miss Holburn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Holburn of No. 47 Prospect street, last saw their daughter when she left the house, saying she was going out for a few minutes. Several hours later came an enlightening telegram.

The couple have been sweethearts for several years, but they kept secret the fact that last Monday they applied for a marriage license at Everett City Hall. Saturday they quietly obtained the license, were married in the evening and were on their way to New oYrk to visit a sister of Heck's before they were missed.

Mrs. Heck is twenty-three years old. Heck is thirty. The groom is associated with his father in the shoe business on Merchants' Row, Boston.

30 MILLION WAITING TO VOTE

Tomorrow's Balloting to Exceed Harding-Cox Contest by 4,000,000, Is Estimate

New York, Nov. 3 (I.N.S.).—Tomorrow's march to the polls will be the greatest electoral trek the world has ever witnessed.

Unless the managers of all parties and all candidates are badly off in their estimates fully 30,000,000 Americans will ballot tomorrow, eclipsing by some 4,000,000 the record vote of 1920 when 27,716,532 citizens recorded their preference in the Harding-Cox contest.

The record-breaking proportions of the vote was about the only thing today that the leaders of all parties were agreed upon. The attitude of the three parties today, twenty-four hours in advance of the decision might be described thus:

The Republicans are supremely confident of a Coolidge-Dawes victory.

The Democrats are quietly hopeful for Davis and Bryan.

The Independents are militantly expectant of a huge popular vote, around which to build a new and permanent third party in American politics.

The more cautious among the forecasters of Coolidge victory are according him a bare majority in the Electoral College. The more sanguine estimates run as high as 350 votes in the college, which would be a sweeping victory.

Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said today that the hope of the Democrats is in the "great, silent vote," that does not express itself in straw votes, predictions, and other pre-election exercises.

Impartial observers incline to the belief that La Follette's sword has been two-edged—that he has cut deeply and for all practical purposes, equally into both major parties.

HARDING'S WIDOW IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Marion, O., Nov. 3 (I.N.S.).—Dr. Carl W. Sawyer announced today that the condition of Mrs. Warren G. Harding, who became ill at the Sawyer home, White Oaks Farm, last week, was "rather serious" and that Dr. James C. Wood, abdominal surgeon of Cleveland, was called in consultation. Dr. Sawyer said he did not want to spread an alarm over Mrs. Harding's health, but the announcement a few days ago that she was ill had brought so many inquiries by letter and telegram that it was not possible for him to reply to them.

American to Show Vote Results From Air

By means of a device never before seen in the United States the Boston American will furnish election results from the air tomorrow night.

Residents of Boston and of communities within a radius of fifty miles will be able to ascertain which candidates [illegible] of the ballots, as well as counting of the ballots, as well as the final results, by watching the skies for the Boston American airplane equipped with a new device.

The plane, in charge of a skilled and experienced aviator, will be seen first over Boston about 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. It will then make a preliminary test flight. The first indications of how the national election is going will be given at 8 o'clock.

At that time, Captain John Connell, inventor of the device, will fly over Boston. From his plane will fly a long silk banner. If John W. Davis is leading, the banner will be illuminated by a green light; if President Coolidge is running ahead, the banner will be red.

The banner is fifty-four feet long and twelve feet wide. It is flown from the tail plane and is illuminated from above by a giant spotlight. It will be flown from a height of 3,000 feet and will stand out against the night sky like a monster billboard.

When the final results of the national election and the governorship fight in Massachusetts are known, the plane will fly over a radius of forty to fifty miles around Boston, displaying an illuminated banner on which will appear the names of the President-elect and the Governor-elect.

The device is said to be superior to sky-writing and has been used successfully in Europe. Tomorrow night will mark its introduction to the United States.

FIRES 3 SHOTS AT WAITER IN RESTAURANT

James M. Behan, a second-class gunner's mate on the U. S. S. Utah, walked into the Turret Lunch, No. 109 Warren street, Charlestown, where John J. Gonnella of No. 87 Maple avenue, Revere, was at work.

Producing an automatic pistol, Behan is alleged to have pointed it at Gonella, and with the words: "You're the rat I'm looking for," opened fire.

The first shot struck the counter, the second grazed the top of Gonella's head, and the third went wild.

Gonella dived under the counter, and scuttling through the kitchen, made his way to the open air, where his cries for help were heard by Patrolmen Clifford McGee and John J. Hancoife.

They started on the run for the lunch room, but in the meantime Cornelius Kenney of No. 59 Lexington street, Charlestown, had grappled with Behan and disarmed him.

He was arrested charged with drunkenness and assault with intent to murder. In Charlestown court today Behan pleaded not guilty. The drunkenness charge, on which he was convicted, was placed on file, and he was held for the grand jury in $5,000 on the other.

Gonella told the court he had never had any trouble with Behan and knew of no reason for the shooting.

SLAYER DRIVEN TO CONFESS BY CONSCIENCE

Marshfield, Nov. 3.—The tortured mind of Christian Martin, fifty-year-old farm hand, has found relief in the Plymouth County Jail, where he is held after the strangest murder confession on record here.

Three hours after Martin shot and killed John Roderick, forty-five years old, of Duxbury, Martin's conscience drove him to police station, where he confessed to the crime. He then led Chief Sullivan and police officers to the shallow grave where he had placed the still warm body of his victim a short time before.

Martin is employed on the estate of Mrs. Joseph Dame and a week ago Roderick came from Duxbury and engaged in a poker game with

FEDERAL OFFICERS ACTIVE

Police to Watch All Wards, Especially in the 10th Congress District

As a result of the alleged discovery of plans for the wholesale perpetration of election frauds in Boston, the Federal authorities today joined with the local police in an attempt to prevent them.

U. S. Marshal William J. Keville began an investigation of charges that twenty persons registered as living at the Quincy House were "mattress voters."

His action followed a warning issued by Superintendent of Police Michael H. Crowley to all division commanders to be on the watch for the extensive use of repeaters, with particular attention to the Tenth Congressional District.

It had previously been revealed that Federal officers were at work in Chelsea and Revere, where extensive election frauds were said to have been planned.

It was learned today that they had been sent to Chelsea and Revere by Marshal Keville, as a result of a complaint made in Washington by Congressman Charles L. Underhill of Somerville. The investigators turned in a report to the effect that no evidences of fraudulent practices were seen.

Today Marshal Keville began investigation of charges contained in a personal letter, written by a reputable citizen, whose name was withheld. This letter stated that of twenty persons registered as living at the Quincy House, fifteen actually resided in other parts of Greater Boston, while the other five had no

PASS THE CHILD LABOR BILL, IS PLEA OF SMITH

Head of the Education Board Joins Forces Fighting for Amendment

Supporters of the Child Labor Amendment are pleased with the announcement of Payson Smith, Commissioner of Education, that he has accepted an appointment to the advisory board of the Massachusetts Child Labor Committee.

In his letter of acceptance, he said: "I am in favor of the adoption of the so-called child labor amendment, Under present economic conditions, it has been found very difficult to provide proper protection of children in employment through State action alone, because of the fact that industries necessarily act independently of State lines. I have no fear that our Congress will act inconsistently with the desires and interests of the American people as a whole."

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

With the conclusion of the tour of the now famous Children's Caravan, Fred L. Smith, chairman of the caravan, today predicted a victory for the amendment.

"We feel certain," he said, "that as a result of our 'Children's Caravan tour' we have removed the doubt from the minds of thousands regarding which way they should vote on the question of the child labor amendment.

"We found that a vicious campaign of untruths has been waged by the opposition. When we could explain to the voter we invariably found the voter came quickly over to the side of Referendum No. 7. In practically every place we visited voters came to us to ask for literature."

The Children's Caravan tour wound up with a mass meeting at Parkman Bandstand on the Common, at which speeches were made by Dr. Worth M. Tippy of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ of America, Owen R. Lovejoy, secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, and Frank McCarthy, representing the American Federation of Labor.

The speakers appealed to a crowd of 5,000 voters to vote "Yes" tomorrow on Referendum No. 7—the Child Labor Amendment.

POSTERS MISLEADING.

Dr. Tippy, who has been on the tour, declared the people of the State have been deliberately confused on the question by the opposition. He termed the campaign of the opposition as a misleading one.

"There have been pictures sent out by the opposition," he declared, "which show a seventeen-year-old boy watching his mother at work. He says: 'I am sorry I can't help you, Ma, but the child labor law won't let me.' The men who sent those pictures out know that they are false.

"The eighteen-year age limit will not apply to the doing of chores. It will apply only to dangerous trades, as it does now in your laws here in Massachusetts. Anyone who tells you different is trying to mislead you. Here in Massachusetts you protect your children in dangerous trades up to the age of twenty-one years. All we want is to give Congress the power to protect children up to the age of eighteen in States that will not protect them. We ask a humane law to protect these children.

Owen R. Lovejoy declared the manufacturer's association has made the farmers believe that if the son of a farmer goes out and cranks the family car, a federal agent will pop up an confisticate the car and send the farmer to prison, if the amendment is passed. He characterized such propoganda as "ridiculous."

LABOR TAKES UP CUDGEL.

Frank McCarthy told of the fights of old when the big interests opposed the workers in their fight for shorter hours, and declared that the same crowd is fighting this child labor amendment.

"You have been told that to adopt this amendment is to infringe on the rights of parents and the state's rights. You have been told that it will bring the children up in idleness and will lead them to crime. You have been told that it will be a menace to organized labor. But these statements have been sent out only to frighten and demoralize the voters, and have come from the manufacturers who are opposing the amendment—organizaitons formed to make the most profit out of industry.

Lynn Pastor Urges Child Amendment

A debate on the proposed Child Labor amendment between Congressman Charles G. Underhill and Rev. Walter W. Van Kirk of the Boston street Methodist Episcopal Church, Lynn, aroused considerable interest in the Health class forum of the church here.

Speaking against the amendment Congressman Underhill declared that to investp wore in Congr[illegible] limit, regulate and prohibit the labor of all persons under eighteen years of age would be to take parental control from the home.

Rev. Dr. Van Kirk said, in part, "Government statistics show that there are more than a million children employed in this country between he ages of 10 and 16 years of age. This child laobr, which prevents the natural and normal development of the child, should be eliminated by laws that Congress should have the power to enact."

TEACHER AND B. U. BOY PLAN TO WED DESPITE ALL OPPOSITION

FOILED AS THEY GET LICENSE

Girl's Parents Say There Will Not Be Any Marriage, but Young People Disagree

It is sometimes far wiser to marry in haste and announce it at leisure than to reverse the order.

This conclusion has been reached by the son of an Everett minister, and a Norwell school teacher who have postponed their marriage because of parental opposition which greeted the announcement that they had run off to Providence and there obtained a marriage license.

Doris Allen

However, the two are determined that opposition or not they will eventually be married. Their romance was born when both were students at Boston University.

Miss Doris Page Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George I. Allen of No. 39 Aborn street, Peabody, and Phillip Lincoln Garland, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles C. Garland, No. 41 Norwood street, Everett, are the engaged couple.

Both are in their early twenties, and young Garland is still attending the University.

At wide variance with the expressed hopes of the pair, are the assertions of their parents. Mr. Allen is determined that there shall be no wedding.

FATHER OPPOSED.

"The whole thing is a mistake" he told newspapermen after a talk with his young daughter. "There will be no wedding."

And Mrs. Allen, after going into executive session with the girl, was of the same opinion.

"It was just foolishness," she announced. "There will be no wedding."

Miss Allen graduated from Boston University last June and became a teacher in a Norwell school.

During the days when the young people were studnts in Boston University their chums noted no particular signs of close friendship between them and hence considerable surprise was occasioned by the announcement of their engagement. But it was nothing to the interest which was aroused by their hurried trip to Providence.

PLANS FAILED.

If they intended to break the news of what they thought was their approaching marriage gently, by making it known that they had obtained a license, the plans of Miss Allen and Mr. Garland failed dismanlly.

Now the two are agreed that "there will be no marriage for the present." This was the burden of a joint statement they made today.

DROP CONTEST OVER NEIL M'NEIL'S WILL

Judge Prest in the Suffolk County Probate Court today allowed the will of Neil McNeil; after counsel for contestants announced they had no further objections to offer.

Mr. McNeil, widely known Boston builder, died on December 4, 1921. His estate is estimated at $800,000. He left it all in trust to Isiah D. Clark, attorney, stipulating that the income be paid to seventeen nephews and nieces. On the death of the last beneficiary, Mr. McNeil provided that the entire principal go to St. Francis Xavier's College of Antigonish, N. S.

ARLINGTON MAN HELD IN BANKRUPTCY CASE

Joseph Simon of Orvis road, Arlington, pleaded not guilty today before United States Commissioner Jenney on an indictment charging him and others with conspiring to conceal the assets of the Clark Jewelry Company of Chicago, which recently went into bankruptcy.

Simon was held in $5,000 for November 10, when it will be decided whether he is to be transferred to Illinois jurdisdiction.

It is alleged that the assets of the bankrupt company are in the neighborhood of $72,000 in jewelry and stones.

jorie, eight years old; Chandler Mason Wood, Jr., five, and Philip Cheney Wood, three.

Miss Whalen is about twenty-seven years old and rather heavily built. She gives the impression of being of rather a serious nature. She has dark hair, deep-set grey eyes, and straight eye-brows which she puckers when she talks.

AUTHORITY ON BANKRUPTCY.

Mrs. Wood, who is prominent socially, charges her husband and Miss Whalen with misconduct in February and May of this year. The papers in the case were served on Wood in New York.

The banker-lawyer is widely known as an authority on bills and notes. He is listed as president of a Boston trust company and until 1915 was president of the Mutual National Bank. In 1919 he was a candidate for State Treasurer on the Democratic ticket and was once talked of as a possible candidate for Governor of Massachusetts. Among his other business connections he is listed as president of the Dedham & Hyde Park Gas & Electric Light Company.

At various times, Wood has been director of the Commercial Trust Company of New York and the Commercial National Bank of Washington. He is listed as a trustee of Tufts College, from which he was graduated in 1903. He is the holder of two degrees from Boston University.

COLLEGE LECTURER.

Wood has lectured at nearly every college in the East and is listed as president of the Chandler School for Women. He is also recorded as vice-president of the West Boston Gas Company and a director of the Olympic Theatres, Inc.

He is well known as a clubman, both in Boston and New York, and is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Phi and Delta Tau Delta, Belmont Country, Eastern Yacht, Corinthian Yacht and Manhattan Clubs. He was born in Fort Plain, N. Y., October 5, 1881.

Weather Maker to Be Very Kind to the Voters

New Englanders may safely leave their umbrellas at home when they set out for the polls tomorrow if the Weather Man is right. Here is his forecast of the Election Day weather:

Boston and vicinity: Fair Tuesday. Not much change in temperature. Moderate north to northwest winds.

New England: Partly cloudy. Little change in temperature. Moderate northwest winds.

SLAYER DRIVEN TO CONFESS BY CONSCIENCE

Martin, winning $80. Martin learned that the cards had been marked—examined them himself, in fact.

Roderick returned for another game Sunday and soon won $20.

"I called him a cheater, seized the $20 and ordered him from the house," Martin told the police.

"I shot him when he attacked me. Frank Perry was playing too.

"When I saw what I had done I was scared. I made Perry promise not to tell anyone. Then I got a wheelbarrow and a shovel. I loaded the body on the wheelbarrow, covered it with an old piece of carpet and wheeled it into the woods and buried it. I went back home, but my conscience almost drove me crazy. I paced the floor until I couldn't stand it any more then I came here."

Martin was immediately arrested, as was Perry, the third member of the card game, who is being held as an accessory after the fact.

In Plymouth district court today Martin was held without bail on a charge of first degree murder, for hearing November 14. Perry was released in $1,500 bonds.

$100,000 FIRE AT BROCKTON LAID TO POKER

Brockton, Nov. 3.—Local and State police today are scouring the city for a group of poker players believed to be responsible for the $100,000 fire which swept the plant of the Brockton Ice & Coal Company on Lawrence street.

the building where the fire broke out is believed to have resulted in the fire which destroyed twelve buildings, twenty-six horses, and scores of automobiles, trucks and wagons and threatened a wide area.

The Brockton Ice & Coal Company owned the dozen buildings destroyed, but did not occupy the largest of the group, a four-story structure leased to Dawson & McBride, automobile and carriage painters, which was destroyed.

STARTED IN HAY.

An inspection of the ruins was made early today, before Chief W. F. Daley presented his report to the State authorities.

The inspection revealed the fact that the fire broke out in a large building used by the ice company for the storage of hay, and it is believed the poker game which ended so disastrously was staged in this building.

It required the combined fire-fighting forces of Brockton, Stoughton, Abington, North Abington and West Bridgewater to hold the blaze in check.

MOVING BACK.

Families today are moving their effects back into the five tenement houses which were threatened by the flames. Time after time these buildings caught fire, but each time the firemen saved the structures. The tenants removed all their household effects which were piled on nearby streets until daylight.

All the structures destroyed were old wooden buildings. These contained feed and harness. Only three of the ice company's buildings, including the office, escaped the flames.

Firemen and spectators who were early on the job succeeded in saving thirty-nine horses housed in the companies' stables, but the bodies of twenty-six animals are being removed from the smouldering ruins today.

STATE GRANTS ELEVATED HARVARD BRIDGE TRACKS

The State Department of Public Utilities today granted the Boston Elevated Street Railway a double track location on Harvard bridge. The location is the same as formerly occupied by the street car company, but decause of differences between the Metropolitan Park Commission which is repairing the bride, and the city of Boston the management of the Elevated was desirous of securing the approval of the Public Utilities Commission.

TRUCK DRIVER HURT IN SOMERVILLE CRASH

August Magerkurth of No. 12 Mill street, Charlestown, was shaken up and bruised when the truck he was driving was in collision with an automobile operated by Edward S. Webster of No. 68 Lincoln street, Needham, at Franklin street and Broadway, Somerville, today. The truck, owned by Edward J. Potter of No. 143 Main street, Charlestown, was wrecked and trolley car service on Broadway was tied up for twenty minutes.

BENTLEY WARREN SUMMER HOME SWEPT BY FIRE

Williamstown, Nov. 3.—The summer home here of Bentley W. Warren, Boston attorney, was almost completely destroyed by fire today. The house, a two-story stucco structure, was valued at $45,000. The fire is believed to have been caused by a defective chimney.

CAP OF BANDIT IN BANK HOLDUP FOUND IN AUTO

Clues in Possession of Police Result in Promise of Arrests Today

Wrentham, Nov. 3.—Arrests in the National Bank of Wrentham holdup are expected within a few hours.

The finding of the car used by the gunmen who shot down Cashier James E. Carpenter in an unsuccessful effort to rob the bank Saturday morning has given the authorities a definite clue and the chase has led to both Providence and Boston.

The car, a blue touring car found abandoned along the road near Rehoboth, is practically a new car, having been driven less than 1,000 miles. A cap found in the car is an additional clue which is aiding the detectives.

The police are endeavoring to learn just where the car was parked between the time it disappeared Saturday morning until it was found, almost twenty-four hours later. The machine was evidently driven into a garage or barn shortly after the attempted robbery and then removed late at night under the cover of darkness.

While the authorities refuse to discuss the case, it is known that several men who have been active in rum-running and hi-jacking activities between Providence and Boston are being closely watched and may be taken at any time.

James E. Carpenter, the cashier who was shot by the bandits, is holding his own at the Norwood Hospital, although his condition is still regarded as grave.

the other two out of the shop on the run.

At City Hospital, the split-lip man gave his name as Richard Carrol of West Rusland square. He was arrested, but defaulted bail when his case was called in court.

The other man arrested is Thomas Quirk of Dartmouth street. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $500.

Pambookian declares the men walked into his store, asked for cigarettes and shouted, "Hands up!" No charge other than assault and battery is lodged against them.

EARL CARROLL BAILED; TO BE TRIED THURSDAY

New York, Nov. 3.—Earl Carroll, producer of "Vanities," was released from Tombs prison under $300 bail today after having been imprisoned since Friday, at his own request, because he had exhibited pictures alleged to be indecent in the lobby of his theatre. Judges in the Court of Special Sessions are to try the theatrical manager on Thursday.

"I went to jail in the hope of getting a quick trial, but since I was unable to secure it, I permitted my brother to bail me out," said Carroll.

CURLEY SPEAKS IN LOMASNEY STRONGHOLD

Makes First Appearance in Martin's Stronghold in Ten Years

Mayor James M. Curley, Democrat candidate for Governor, made his first appearance in more than ten years at the Hendricks Club and told his auditors how "Governor Cox is being called out of the seclusion of the State House to bolster up the case of Fuller.

"The Republican leaders seem to be terribly disturbed about Alvan's welfare in Boston. Witness Grafton Cushing's absurd appeal to the election commissioner for a recount of the local vote. They may recount and recount the Boston vote, but they will find no other verdict than that the solid Democratic strength of the city will be behind the entire Democratic ticket, from Davis to the bottom of the ticket," the Mayor declared.

DENOUNCES TAGUE.

The Mayor was welcomed by Joseph P. Lomasney, the Hendricks Club leader, Martin M. Lomasney having retired after delivering a speech in which he denounced Congressman Peter F. Tague as a "scoundrel" and "bill dodger," and called for Tague's defeat in the tenth district on Tuesday in one of the most vitriolic speeches in his career.

He credited the Deity with having a hand in the victory of John J. Douglas of East Boston in the primaries, when his candidate beat Tague by more than 2,000 votes. Tague is now running on stickers.

Two hundred of the faithful crowded into the dingy gas lit and stove heated Hendricks Club and listened to Mahatma's "Sunday before" instructions.

CLEARED OUT.

Singling out Tague from the other Democrats who had voted for the Child Labor amendment, Lomasney characterized the amendment as "vicious" and charged Tague had "sold us out."

"Tague says I was indicted thirty years ago," Martin shouted to the huge delight of his audience. "It was forty years ago. They were pretty powerful fellows and I was making trouble for them. They're dead now. I won't mention their names. I helped them down the line. Old Oliver Stevens said to them, 'Bring in your evidenece. I won't prosecute this man!' And they ran away. That's the record. That record I wouldn't exchange for Tague's record."

In winding up his address, he endorsed "Plan 2" on the charter change.

Up-to-the-Minute Election News by Boston American

Tuesday—election night—the Boston American will give the public latest election returns in two locations, Winthrop square, Boston, and Central square, Cambridge.

The figures flashed from all parts of the country over the many service wires of the Boston American, with the progress of the State contests, will be flashed on screens in front of the Hearst Building for Boston election fans and in Cambridge for voters over the river.

Remember—the Boston American is fed by more wire services than any other newspaper in the city. The Boston American returns will be the quickest, and they will be accurate. Watch for the Boston American's election extras.

Woman of 98 Wil Give First Vote to Coolidge

West Boylston, Nov. 3.—One of the happiest women in the world today is Mrs. Emily W. Parker, who was ninety-eight years of age on September 14 and who is in receipt of the following letter from President Coolidge:

> "My Dear Mrs. Parker: One of my friends in West Boylston has been good enough to send me a newspaper clipping telling the story of your registration and of your life interest in public affairs. I am writing to congratulate you on your being able at your advanced age to continue your activities, and to express the hope that you may have many more years of continued interest.
> "CALVIN COOLIDGE."

Mrs. Parker will be taken to the polls tomorrow as she wants to cast her vote for President Coolidge.

LEADERS MAKE FINAL APPEALS TO VOTERS

Rival Campaigners All "Confident" as Speechmaking Ends Tonight

The national campaign ends with these interesting developments:

Samuel Untermeyer and Frank P. Walsh issued a joint statement charging that nearly $15,000 000 has been raised in slush funds for the Republican party by the house of Morgan in its desire to get a firm grip upon the Government.

Senator Robert M. La Follette, from his home in Madison, Wis., issued an appeal for a "full and complete vote" of the American people, asserting that they, once within the secrecy of the polling places, will repudiate the campaign of "intimidation and coercion" that has been in force to compel them to support the two old parties, which are alike as "two peas in a pod."

* * *

Clem Shaver, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, asserts that only those who "are interested 'in money'" will vote to support the Republican nominees.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, independent candidate for vice-president, said in speeches in Newark and Jersey City that the best answer to the campaign slogan "Coolidge and prosperity" is the fact that labor is working on part time and bread-lines have been formed in President Coolidge's home State of Massachusetts.

* * *

William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, repeated his confident assertion that President Coolidge will have about 350 votes in the electoral college.

John W. Davis announced that his final effort will be a radio appeal to the American people to attend the polls, regardless of whom they may cast their ballots for.

* * *

President Calvin Coolidge casually announced that he will bring his campaign to an end tonight via radio, urging the people to do their patriotic duty at the polls.

Odds On Coolidge Now 11 to 1, a New High

New York, Nov. 1 (I.N.S.).—At the betting marts of Wall Street today odds of 10 to 1 and 11 to 1 were being laid on President Coolidge to win.

Two to one and 11 to 5 were quoted on the Smith-Roosevelt fight for Governorship, Smith being the favorite.

Even money was offered that Coolidge will have in excess of 360 votes in the electoral college.

Four to one was offered that the election will not be thrown into Congress.

WETS SPENT MONEY IN N. E. CONGRESS FIGHTS

Washington, Nov. 3.—The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment reported to the clerk of the House today total campaign receipts to October 31 of $15,235, with expenditures of $13,351. Of this sum $2,000 was used in the New England States, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and West Virginia in working for the election of members of Congress.

THE CHILDREN WILL BE CARED FOR

Tomorrow Our Country will vote for or against the Child Labor Amendment—Whatever the decision, the children of Massachusetts will get a square deal. If James M. Curley is elected Governor of our fair state he will see to it that the children are treated justly—Mr. Curley loves children—he has a big family, has always been a just and tender father. He will fight for the rights of you and your children as he has always fought. And Alvan T. Fuller—What of him—people who know him say that he would rather lose a million dollars than see any harm done to a child. And our own State now has laws that protect our Children in the fullest measure. The Children are safe in Massachusetts. Within my means I try to help children—at certain seasons I give away to deserving children pianos that I take in exchange. A musically inclined child should be encouraged. If the family is unable to get a piano for that child—I can help.

Secret Service Men Probe Alleged Fraud in Revere and Chelsea

local addresses. The names of these persons were given.

The Marshal was asked to investigate with the understanding that it might lead to further disclosures.

Superintendent Crowley's general order, in addition to routine instructions, stated a rumor was in circulation that numbers of persons, including all wards, would vote or attempt to vote illegally tomorrow.

Superintendent Crowley's warning followed the discovery that Department of Justice men were on watch for election frauds in Chelsea and Revere.

The general order, in addition to routine instructions, stated a rumor was in circulation that numbers of persons, including all wards, would vote or attempt to vote illegally tomorrow.

The superintendent also instructed the police on duty at the polling places to carefully observe the checking lists, noting the names of all persons absent, in hospitals or other places which would prevent them from voting.

TOLD TO BE ALERT.

The police were instructed to be especially alert in the Tenth Congressional District, which includes Wards 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6. They were also told to enforce the law regarding the distribution, circulation and exhibition of handbills intended to influence the voters within 150 feet of polling places. It was pointed out that the distribution of stickers did not come under this law, but that the police were to preserve order at all times, and the voters were not to be disturbed.

The superintendent also called attention to the fact that although two additional polling officers would go on duty at 6 p. m. at each polling place, they were under no circumstances to be allowed to count the ballots until the polls close at 8 p. m.

COOLIDGE SUCCESS SEEN IN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Nov. 3 (Universal). —California has been placed in the doubtful column for the principal reason that the polls show a close race between Coolidge and La Follette with Davis completely distanced. The edge, however, according to the best political judgment obtainable is with President Coolidge.

California is naturally a Republican State. It flopped in 1916, but that was a fluke. Harding carried it by nearly 400,000.

The Republican registration in the State is so predominant that the cut which La Follette is making will not wipe it out.

Another factor which must be given the fullest consideration is this: California is essentially a high protective tariff State.

JULIA O'CONNOR INDORSES LA FOLLETTE

New York, Nov. 3.—Julia O'Connor, president of the Telephone Operators' division of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, today urged the necessity of voting on her fellow-workers. Favoring Senator La Follette, she said:

"The women of the labor movement, whether wage earners or the wives and home-makers of union men, have great interest at stake in the Presidential campaign of 1924.

"We have been citizens in our own right but a few brief years; we are the first generation of women who have influenced through the ballot box the political destiny of our country; we are now called to service in an inspiring and potent opportunity to demonstrate our loyalty to the labor cause."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets — the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Women Play Important Part in Tomorrow's Elections

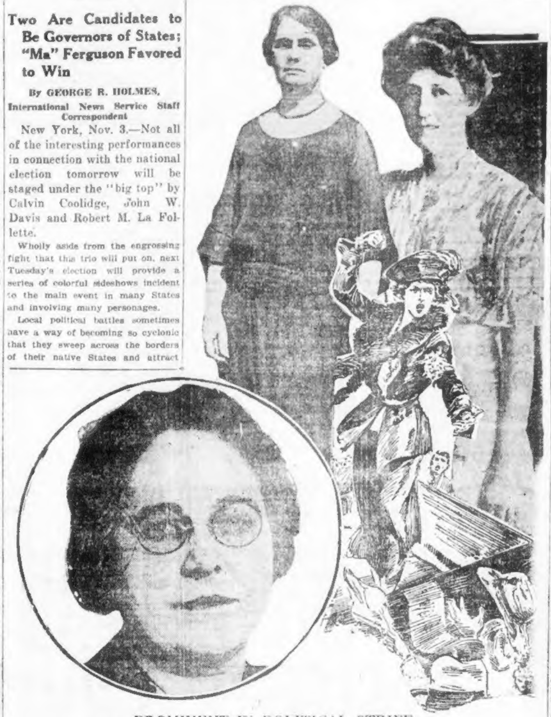
Two Are Candidates to Be Governors of States; "Ma" Ferguson Favored to Win

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

New York, Nov. 3.—Not all of the interesting performances in connection with the national election tomorrow will be staged under the "big top" by Calvin Coolidge, John W. Davis and Robert M. La Follette.

Wholly aside from the engrossing fight that this trio will put on, next Tuesday's election will provide a series of colorful sideshows incident to the main event in many States and involving many personages.

Local political battles sometimes have a way of becoming so cyclonic that they sweep across the borders of their native States and attract and hold the attention of the country.



PROMINENT IN POLITICAL STRIFE

WATCH TEXAS FIGHT.

Such a fight is being put on in Texas by Mrs. Miriam A. ("Ma") Ferguson, wife of a one-time Governor of Texas and the first woman in history to gain a gubernatorial nomination. Ordinarily, a Democratic nomination in Texas is equivalent to election, but in this particular case such bitter feeling has been engendered in the Empire of the Southwest over "Ma's" candidacy that the party has split, and for the first time in a generation the Republicans of Texas believe, or profess to believe, they have a chance to elect a Republican Governor. The wise ones scoff at the idea, but the fact remains that it is an interesting fight and one, too, that has outgrown the borders of Texas and interests the nation.

"Ma" Ferguson's opponent is George C. Butte. He will get not a few Democratic votes in Texas because of the Democratic bitterness over "Ma's" candidacy. The temper of this fight can be gauged by the fact that recently Thomas B. Love, Democratic National Committeeman from Texas, announced he would NOT vote for Mrs. Ferguson.

Out in Wyoming another pioneer woman is seeking the Governorship—Mrs. Nellie G. Ross, also on the Democratic ticket. Her husband was Governor, and, upon his death some weeks ago, the Democrats accorded her the unusual honor of being nominated for her husband's post. There are indications that the Wyoming result will be close.

MAY NAME TWO WOMEN.

It is well within the bounds of probability, however, that Wednesday will see two women elected to the Governorships of great States—the first in history.

Six other women, with major party endorsements, are striving for Congress in various parts of the country, and it is probable that some of them will be elected. More than this number are actually running, but in a majority of cases their names on the ballots are indicative of little. However, in the six cases mentioned, there exists a possibility of success. Unless some of them are elected the next Congress will be womanless. This session's lone woman, Mrs. Mae E. Nolan (R.), of California, is not a candidate for re-election.

In Illinois Mary Ward Hunt, of Benton, is running for Congressman-at-large on the Democratic ticket.

In Kansas Nellie Cline, of Larned, is opposing Congressman J. M. Tincher, of the Seventh District. She, also, is a Democrat.

In Tennessee Mary Giles Howard, of Chattanooga, Republican, is opposing Congressman S. D. McReynolds.

WOMEN CONFIDENT.

In New Jersey Mrs. Mary T. Norton, Democrat, of Jersey City, is opposed by Douglas D. T. Story. Mrs. Norton received the nomination when Congressman Charles F. X. O'Brien decided not to run again. It is a Democratic district, and her friends feel confident of success.

In Pennsylvania there are two women candidates who believe they have a chance—Mrs. Jessie L. Collet, of Philadelphia, who has a Democratic - Progressive endorsement and is opposing the veteran George S. Graham; and Mrs. Elizabeth Culbertson, Prohibitionist, who is running from Erie and Crawford counties.

Political Notes

Senator David I. Walsh got a wonderful reception in the town of Milford last night. Tonight he addresses the Worcester rally with the Mayor returning for the big "night before" rally in Symphony Hall.

* * *

Democratic spellbinders will make a farewell tour tonight of all the Boston wards.

"Referendum No. 3," Dr. D. Leigh Colvin of New York said at Shawmut Congregational Church, "is not an issue to bring back beer and light wine, but to suppress bootleggers, rum-runners and moonshiners."

* * *

Resolutions condemning Elihu D. Stone, assistant U. S. district attorney, and Representative Elijah Adlow for their methods of criticism of Mayor Curley were adopted at a meeting of the Independent Jewish Voters of Roxbury and Dorchester, held in Regent Hall, Roxbury.

The resolutions stated that Mayor Curley had always been the most devoted friend of the Jewish communities of the United States of all men in political life.

The child labor amendment was generally scored and parishioners were asked to cast their vote in opposition to it by priests in a large number of Catholic churches of the Boston diocese at masses yesterday.

A circular letter issued by the League of Catholic Women was generally used in attacks upon the amendment, which was characterized as an attempt at nationalization of children.

The District Council of plumbers, steam fitters, gas fitters, sprinkler fitters, and steam fitters' assistants announced that in meeting at Wells Memorial Building Saturday night, it unanimously indorsed the child labor amendment.

The Board of Election Commissioners warns that delaying your voting until the hours between 6 p. m. and 8 p. m. may lead to congestion at the precincts, which would result in some voters not being able to cast their votes before the closing of the polls. Polls open in Boston for voting tomorrow morning at 6 a. m. They will close promptly at 8 o'clock at night.

LA FOLLETTE IS HOPEFUL ON EVE OF ELECTION

Regardless of Who Wins Presidency, Sees Victory for Progressive Cause

Madison, Wis., Nov. 3 (I.N.S.).—Senator La Follette's philosophy as he calmly awaits tomorrow's balloting is that the result will be a victory for the Progressive cause, regardless of who wins the Presidency.

He is convinced John W. Davis, the Democratic candidate, cannot get a majority at the polls. He believes President Coolidge, the Republican nominee, will not win in the electoral college. Of his own chances, he is hopeful.

But the Independent-Progressive standard bearer, a veteran of forty years of political battling, would not be disappointed nor greatly disturbed by defeat of his personal candidacy. His confident contention is that "heads he wins and tails the others lose." His line of reasoning is along this line:

If he should win, of course his goal would be reached. A new political party to carry out his policies would become an actuality. A new political alignment would be an established fact in the United States. And that, after all, is the real objective for which he has fought.

Within a few days after the election result definitely is known, La Follette will issue a formal pronouncement calling upon his followers to carry on with the formation of a new party, unless, perchance, the Progressive movement should prove to be a fiasco and a disaster, which no one now expects.

Should President Coolidge win a straightout victory, and sweep in with him regular Republican majorities in both branches of Congress, La Follette's assertion is that there would be such "an orgy of special privilege" for the ensuing four years as to insure success for the Progressives in 1928, with notable accessions in Congress in 1926.

But La Follette holds it to be well-nigh impossible for Coolidge to have a Congress that would carry out his views and policies, were he elected. The Progressives, their chief declares, still will hold the balance of power.

La Follette promised prison cells, if he is elected, for "the gentlemen of Wall Street who are glibly making threats" of a panic if Coolidge is not elected.

WALSH SEES VICTORY BY 50,000

Senator Declares Support of Independent Voters Will Carry Him Through

United States Senator David I. Walsh, Democratic candidate for re-election, declared that he will win by 50,000 majority.

Walsh based his prediction, he said, on reports checked up from all parts of the State. "In all my campaigns I have never received such outspoken and enthusiastic Republican support," he declared.

"In addition, the followers of the third party candidate for President, La Follette, will cast almost a unanimous vote for me, because, to do otherwise, will be a repudiation of their principles.

"They know no man in public life in Washington in the past thirty years has been more subservient to standpat and reactionary influences than Mr. Gillett.

"Practically the entire Democratic vote, the entire third party vote and tens of thousands of Republicans who have followed my six years of service at Washington with approval, make the outlook for me assume the proportions of a landslide. Party labels will be cast to the winds and the individual candidate judged solely by his record of public service will be the controlling factor.

"I shall win on my record of six years of honest and faithful service to all the people of Massachusetts as their junior Senator, and, mark me, the verdict will be emphatic."

GOV. BRYAN'S AUTO IN CRASH ON ROAD

Fairmont, Neb., Nov. 3.—Governor Bryan, Democratic candidate for Vice-President, narrowly escaped injury when an automobile ran headlong into his car at a turn in the road here.

Governor Bryan will start his final day's campaigning today. Tomorrow morning, together with Mrs. Bryan, he will cast his vote at the State Capital. He expects to receive election returns from a special wire into the executive mansion.

Here Are Election Features to Watch

The voter who sits up tomorrow night to see a President elected must not expect his final figures too early. The East and the Middle-West are admitted to be Coolidge's. There is a difference of two hours between our time and Mountain time and a difference of three hours between our time and Pacific Coast time. The doubtful States are on the other side of the Mississippi River.

Here are some of the things everybody will be watching tomorrow and many of them are not far from home:

Who gets the eighteen votes of Missouri, the thirteen of Iowa, the fifteen of Indiana, the thirteen of California, and the seven electoral votes of the State of Washington.

Rhode Island battle between Governor William S. Flynn and Jesse H. Metcalf, for United States Senator.

"Ma" Ferguson's fate, in Texas.

In Montana: Senator Thomas J. Walsh vs. Frank B. Linderman, Republican.

Success or failure of former Governor "Jack" Walton's effort to stage a "come back" as United States Senator. The K. K. K. is with his opponent, a millionaire oil man.

Congressman Peter F. Tague's single-handed fight against Martin Lomasney, for a return ticket to Washington.

What "Jim" Driscoll does or doesn't to George Holden Tinkham, in the eleventh Congressional district.

Curley vs. Fuller.

Gillett vs. Walsh.

Whether the voters of Massachusetts will furnish the manufacturers with ammunition to use before the Legislatures of other States by rejecting the Child Labor amendment to the Constitution.

"Al" against Teddy, Jr.

Size of the La Follette vote, here, there and everywhere. Will it be big enough to encourage the formation of a genuine Third Party in preparation for the Congressional elections of 1926?

Heartrending escape or successful last stand of State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook, persona non grata to Republicans who know which fork to use with the oysters.

Massachusetts votes on the question of enforcing the Federal Prohibition laws through local officers.

SCANLON TO SPEAK IN 23D MIDDLESEX TONIGHT

James C. Scanlon, Democratic candidate for representative in the Twenty-third Middlesex District, will make a tour of the section tonight in winding up a very active campaign. Mr. Scanlon is a graduate of Harvard 1918, and in 1917 won the Boylston prize for public speaking at that university.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

BALDWIN AS PREMIER TO RUSH HIS WORK

London, Nov. 3 (A.P.).—The expectation in well-informed quarters is that the Labor government will resign tomorrow and that the King, in accordance with custom, will call upon Stanley Baldwin, as leader of the victorious Conservative party, to form a new ministry.

Mr. Baldwin will probably progress rapidly enough in the allotment of posts to enable him to announce his chief appointments before the end of the week and to confirm custom by attending the Lord Mayor's banquet on Saturday as Premier.

SAHARA DESERT FOLK ASK FOR RAINMAKER

Hanford, Cal., Nov. 3.—The fame of Charles N. Hatfield, as a result of his rain-making undertakings in California, has reached Africa where he may have a chance to try his cunning on the Sahara Desert. The King's County Chamber of Commerce announced today it had received an inquiry concerning Hatfield from Tunis, in French West Africa. He "shoots the skies" with fumes from chemicals.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic Coughs and Persistent Colds Lead to Serious Lung Trouble. You Can Stop Them Now With Creomulsion, an Emulsified Creosote That Is Pleasant to Take.

Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, Creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Forthcoming Senior and Junior Supper Dances Are Being Joyfully Anticipated

By BETTY ALDEN.

SOCIETY enjoys few affairs more than it does the junior and senior supper dances.

Though the first of the "juniors" doesn't take place until the fifteenth of next month—the first of the "seniors" coming two days later—society is already keenly anticipating them.

The senior supper dances will, as usual, have for their setting the Copley-Plaza. All six dances are Friday events, the dates December 19, January 2, January 23, February 6, February 27 and March 6.

This series of terpsichorean evenings are attended for the most part by members of the jolly younger-married set, girls who've been out two or more years, and those of the male contingent to whom the strains of famous march from "Lohengrin" brings up the most impersonal memories.

THE list of sponsors for this Winter's "seniors" is quite as distinctive as ever, including such smart young matrons as Mrs. John K. Howard, Mrs. J. Lewis Bremer, known for her skill with the racquet; Mrs. John S. Lawrence, who is still answering innumerable questions relating to her recent visitor, the Prince of Wales; Mrs. Herbert Jacques; Mrs. George von L. Meyer, Jr., who has lost not one whit of the dash and charm of her Frances Saltonstall days; Mrs. William S. Patten, Mrs. Francis H. Appleton, Jr., Mrs. Richard S. Russell, Mrs. David Sears 2nd, one of the very youngest of all the patronesses; Mrs. Gaspar G. Bacon, Mrs. Dudley R. Howe, Mrs. Francis B. Bacon and Mrs. Hendricks H. Whitman, though the latter is to be in Paris the greater part of the Winter.

AS for the junior dances, those who answer the wail of the saxophone on these occasions include the debutantes of the season and their cavaliers, as well as their older sisters, who've been out a year or more.

There are to be four "juniors" this Winter. Apparently the committee arranging the dates is quite devoid of superstition, since the third is set for Friday, the 13th of February. Like the senior affairs, they will be held at the Copley-Plaza, the other dates being December 17, January 16 and March 6.

The list of patronesses and the committee has not yet been completed, but the latter will as usual include several young girls as well as a few Harvard men.

MRS. CHANDLER ROBBINS

(By Staff Photographer.)

Everything from ordinary clothing to rare antiques will be sold at the rummage sale being held at Horticultural Hall today and tomorrow for the Community Health Association. Mrs. Chandler Robbins of Weston is of the group in charge.

SOCIAL interest nearer at hand is, of course, provided by the two weeks' engagement of the San Carlo Opera Company, opening this evening at the Boston Opera House. A few of the many fashionables sponsoring the performances are Mrs. Allan Forbes, Mrs. George R. Fearing, Courtney Guild, Mrs. Samuel J. Mixter, the E. Sohier Welchs, Robert Winsor, Jr., and Philip L. Saltonstall.

Society Notes

THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY of the Treasury and Mrs. Eliot Wadsworth have returned from Boston to their Washington home.

Mr. and Mrs. Amory S. Carhart, the latter formerly Miss Isadora Bliss of Boston, are to make their permanent home in New York at the Sulgrave, a new apartment hotel at Sixty-seventh street and Park avenue. The Carharts are now at Tuxedo Park.

Dr. and Mrs. Oliver A. Lothrop of Waban are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter named Margaret.

Among the Bostonians aboard the Cunard liner Samaria, which arrived in Boston today, are Mrs. Robert C. Winthrop of Walnut street, Dr. and Mrs. James H. Means of Chestnut street and Mrs. Dudley B. Fay of Beacon street.

Mrs. Frederic Neilson has concluded her sojourn at Hot Springs and returned to her New York apartment at the Plaza for the Winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Chatfield-Taylor are among those who will entertain friends tomorrow night at the Plaza.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Sears are remaining into the season at their Pride's Crossing Summer home.

2 SAVED AFTER 40 HOURS IN SMALL BOAT

Men Covered With Ice and Snow After Life Battle on Lake Huron

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 3.—Daniel McLaughlin, first mate of the foundered vessel Glen Lyons, and another member of the crew, were to arrive here today in a coast guard rescue boat after tossing about in a small lifeboat on the gale swept waters of Lake Huron for nearly 40 hours.

The Glen Sannox, a sister ship of the Glen Lyons, rescued the rest of the crew as the latter vessel was sinking near Isle Royal.

McLaughlin and a companion had set off in the life boat ahead of the crew, preferring not to take chances on the sinking ship.

Two rescue ships eventually had to be rescued themselves, engines of both boats going dead after fighting the gale for 18 hours.

McLaughlin and the sailor, bleeding and half conscious, were sighted by a coast guard crew eight miles off the Menageria Islands.

A sixty-mile gale was blowing and both the coast guards' little boat and the lifeboat were being tossed about by the high waves when the rescuers sighted the two men through the darkness. The rescuers, in addition to fighting the sixty-mile gale, drove ahead into a snowstorm. When the coast guard crew rescued the sailors they were covered with snow and ice.

LOOK IN BOOK FOR TELEPHONE NUMBERS

Hereafter, according to announcement by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, a subscriber may call "Information," but he won't get it—if the number he seeks is listed in the telephone directory.

The new ruling will be a great blow to lazy and careless subscribers who have been in the habit of obtaining desired numbers from "Information" rather than exert a mild effort and consult the 'phone book.

From now on, the girl at the information desk will furnish inquiring subscribers only with the telephone numbers of new subscribers whose phones are not yet listed in the directory.

Officials of the telephone company say that the public has become so accustomed to calling "information" for numbers that a large part of it has ceased to consult the telephone directory at all. Naturally, this has the effect of slowing up service and imparing efficency.

The new Winter 1924-25 telephone directory has just been distributed. About 36,000 copies are in the hands of subscribers.

WOMAN TAKES POISON AFTER RAID ARREST

Lawrence, Nov. 3.—Dreading the disgrace of arraignment in the district court on a serious charge, Mrs. Alice Charest of No. 345 Essex street swallowed poison in a suicide attempt and is in a critical condition at the Lawrence General Hospital.

Her name is on the danger list.

Mrs. Charest was arrested Saturday night in a raid on a house at Essex street. She was booked on a statutory charge and released in bail of $300. She was to be arraigned today.

She went to the home of her sister, Mrs. Delia Moran, Broadway; and, after discussing her misfortunes went into another room and swallowed the poison.

The police ambulance was called and she was hurried to the hospital.

Los Angeles Death List Increases; Cases All in Mexican Quarter

Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—State and Federal health authorities today were assisting Los Angeles in its fight to block the spread of pneumonic plague which, at last reports, had claimed twenty-one victims in the Mexican quarter.

Ten cases under treatment at the General Hospital are said to be critical.

Dr. W. H. Kellogg, State Health Department expert, announced that, though there was no doubt about the nature of the malady or its seriousness, the prospects for bringing it under control were good.

Of the seven who died yesterday, two gave their lives in performance of duty. One, Father M. Bruaila, a priest at the historic old Plaza Church, went about the infected quarter administering extreme unction to the dying. The other, Emmett McLauthin, was an ambulance driver.

The mortality rate of the disease, which is allied to the bubonic plague, approaches 100 per cent.

Ground squirrels probably broght the disease to Los Angeles and communicated it to rats which, in turn, probably transmitted it to the first husman victim through the intermediary of a flea, Dr. Kellogg said, in discussing the history of the plague in the United States.

The Los Angeles outbreak of pneumonic plague, according to Dr. Kellogg, is an indirect heritage from the Oakland plague of 1919, the first appearance in this country. Heretofore there had been cases of bubonic plague, an allied malady, which reached San Francisco from the Orient in 1900 and years later appeared in New Orleans and Galveston.

California is the only part of the United States in which the pneumonic form of plague has appeared, according to Dr. Kellogg, though in the Orient it has, within the last few years, claimed thousands of victims. It is distinct from the bubonic plague in that it attacks the lungs, whereas the bubonic form attacks the glands.

Boston Need Not Fear Plague, Says Dr. Bigelow

Pneumonic plague, which has caused many deaths in Los Angeles, has little chance to spread to Massachusetts, according to Dr. George H. Bigelow, director of communicable diseases, State Department of Public Health.

Dr. Bigelow agrees to the theory that the plague was brought from the Orient by rats, transferred to wharf rats at Los Angeles, and then transferred by fleas from these rats to the squirrels.

"The pneumonic plague is endemic in ground squirrels, just as measles is endemic in us," he said.

Boy Dies of Burns

Westfield, Nov. 3.—Francis J. Sullivan, seven years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Sullivan, died of burns received when his clothes caught fire during a Hallowe'en celebration.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up
This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, or bronchial asthma.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Here's a New Peril! Face Powder Is Causing Asthma

Berlin, Nov. 3.—Many kinds of face powder cause asthma, according to Professor Payser, Berlin physician who has a large practice among singers and actors.

He warns stage celebrities they must be careful about the character of powder and paint they use if they wish to protect their throats, noses and lungs from injury.

If actors wish to overcome the dangers of their profession they must use tobacco and alcohol very sparingly, if at all, and get all the outdoor exercise and sleep possible, the doctors says.

Henrietta, Okla., Nov. 3.—One undred klansmen were voluntary risoners in their meeting place on he third floor of a downtown buildig here, awaiting the cloaking hades of darkness, while anti-klansnen spied out the gathering.

The anti-klansmen, most of whom ere members of the United Mine Vorkers of America, took "inventry" of the meeting from the roofs f surrounding buildings, the locaon and height of which made possible a good view of the interior of the klan hall, to see who belonged to the order. A rule of the miners' union prohibits members from holding membership in the klan.

Makes Wind Drive New Ship Without Sails

Berlin, Nov. 3 (Universal).—A sailing ship without sails has been invented by Anton Flettner, director of the Flettner concern of Berlin. The invention is based on entirely new experiments with the effect of wind on moving bodies.

The masts which formerly bore sails have been transformed into tower-like structures on which the wind bears down under conditions within the control of the captain.

435 LICENSES TO DRIVE ARE REVOKED

17 Killed in Week's Auto Accidents; 89 Convicted for Drunken Driving

Driving by drunken autoists and fatalities decreased in Massachusetts during the past week, according to a report from Motor Registrar Frank A. Goodwin.

Eleven adults and six children were killed in motor accidents in the State during the week, while during the same period 89 persons were convicted of driving while intoxicated, a decrease of 15 over the preceding week. The number of persons killed last week is five less than during the previous week.

There were 435 licenses to drive either revoked or suspended and of these, 121 involved intoxicants.

EXPERT DECLARES OIL BURNERS MOST EFFICIENT

Colonel Paul B. Moulton is now in charge of installations for the Koless Oil Burner Company.

While in the employ of the State Colonel Moulton passed upon the various types of oil burners approved by the Committee of Public Safety and is perhaps as competent an authority on the subject of domestic oil burners as any chemist in the State.

He states that the average combustion efficiency of a coal burning furnace is 50 per cent. by the Orsat test, as against 80 per cent. efficiency with the average automatic oil burner. Improper combustion of light fuel gives off carbon monoxide gas at 55 per cent. less heating efficiency, as against 85 per cent. efficiency of carbon Dioxide gas given off by perfect combustion.

As little as 1-16 of an inch of carbon soot will detract 22 2-10 per cent. efficiency from the boiler. That the installation of an oil burning system increases the floor space of a house 33 1-3 per cent.

EW HOME OIL BURNER HUMIDIFIES HEATED AIR

omestic oil burning originated ith the gravity feed burners. Later elopments were the rotary and zle types.

f a natural draft burner could be eloped that would produce a clean g flame absolutely free from carn, it would meet the insistent demand for a simple, effecient and asonably priced oil heating plant hich the average home owner could ford to install and operate. A rner now on the market accomishes these results by adapting to mestic oil burning a principle mewhat similar to that used in oil rning battleships and locomotives. he air going to the burner is umidified by the injection of a eam vapor into the air manifold.

A device for supplying just enough eam to the burner, automatically, produce this result has been deeloped within the last year and has ut the gravity feed burner thus quipped into the front rank of fficient oil burners.

STAGE BLENDED WITH MOVIES AT FENWAY

George Beban Appears in Person in Duplicate Scene of Film Play

George Beban, in person and on the screen, with a company of twenty-four Broadway favorites, present a new production, "The Greatest Love of All," at the Fenway Theatre this week.

Something entirely different and unique is shown in a combination of the screen and spoken stage.

George Beban stars in the shadowland play. At the climax of the film, the scene of a court-room trial of an aged mother, the picture suddenly fades away and the curtain rises on a courtroom scene with the same twenty-four people on the real spoken stage. The effect is both startling and pleasing as the play goes from the screen to the stage with no interruption.

In this delightful drama, George Beban, who is listed as author, director and star, is at his best, both in person and on the screen, in the role of Joe, the iceman, who, after being in America two years, saves enough to bring his "sweetheart," his mother, to New York from Italy.

Joe has an ambition to buy a farm out in the country, and his mother, without his knowledge, takes in washing to help her son. The little mother has as one of her patrons the wife of the district attorney. One day when she comes to deliver the washing, a valuable bracelet is dropped into her basket by the district attorney's little girl.

She is accused of stealing the bracelet and is brought to trial. At this point the film fades out and the players in person act out the rest of the trial scene. In this spoken scene, Mr. Beban's quick changes from pathos to comedy are very well done and merit the spontaneous applause which is given by the appreciative audience. After the trial, the story is picked up again on the screen, and is brought to a happy conclusion.

FILM the worst enemy to teeth

You can feel it with your tongue

Maybe Your Teeth are gloriously clear

—simply clouded with a film coat

Find out by making this unique test. Thousands who go through life wishing for beautiful teeth already have them ... yet never reveal them—or know they have them!

THOUSANDS of people unconsciously handicap themselves in domestic and social life with cloudy teeth—absolutely without reason.

Scientists now prove that most people have pretty, clear teeth. And that dingy, dull teeth simply indicate a condition that can easily be corrected.

You may be one of those people. Have really charming teeth and yet not know it.

Now a test is being offered which will enable you to find out. The coupon brings it without charge. So it is folly not to make it.

It's simply a film—a stubborn film that you can easily remove

Run your tongue across your teeth. You will feel a film. A film that absorbs discolorations and hides the natural color and luster of your teeth.

Old-time dentifrices failed in successfully combating that film. That is why, regardless of all the care you take now, your teeth remain "off color," dingy looking, unattractive.

Remove it, and you, like millions before you, will be surprised to find that your own teeth are as pretty as anyone's.

What it is—how it invites tooth troubles and decay

Modern dental practice urges the constant fighting of that film. Urges it on grounds of beauty and, more importantly, on health. For it it charged with most tooth troubles of today.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It hoids food substance which ferments and causes acid. In contact with teeth, this acid fosters decay.

Germs by the millions breed in it and multiply. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

So that same film that hides your pretty teeth is too the great enemy of healthy, sound teeth—an ever-present danger in your mouth.

You must remove it three times daily. It is ever forming, ever present. Soap and chalk preparations are inadequate. Harsh, gritty substances are dangerous to enamel.

New methods that supplant old

Now modern science has discovered new and radically different methods. A dentifrice called Pepsodent—different in formula, action and effect from any you have ever known.

Its action is to curdle that film. Then harmlessly to remove it. No harsh grit, no soap, no chalk—a new way that is changing the tooth cleansing habits of the world.

Make this test

To millions this new way has proved the folly of having ugly teeth. The folly of inviting tooth troubles and the poor health that results.

It will give you the lustrous teeth you want—quickly.

Results will surprise you. Mail the coupon now. Why follow old methods when world's leading dental authority urges a better way?

Deland, Fla., Nov. 3.—Two small children of Frank Trask were burned to death today when their home was destroyed by fire. Three members of the family, including Trask, were injured seriously.

PYROMANIAC HUNTED AS FOREST FIRE TERROR

Although the majority of forest fires in this State have been caused by carelessness, the State Department of Conservation announced today, that at least nine fires in the woods near Grafton, were set.

As a result State and town officials began a search for a pyromaniac who, it is feared, will cause other conflagrations unless he is captured.

Forest wardens have reported that there are about fifty fires now going on in various sections of the State with approximately 2,000 men fighting them.

New fires were reported in Sherborn, Franklin, Medway, Bellingham, Uxbridge, Northbridge, Wrentham, Dracut, Holden, Reading, Winchendon, Halifax, Peru and Holyoke.

Threatened by forest fires advancing from both the east and west, residents of [illegible] are fearful that unless rain falls within a short time the town may be partly destroyed.

Four hundred acres of scrub growth were burned over at Worcester, threatening a number of homes. Five companies of the fire department and volunteers armed with shovels and rakes finally succeeded in checking the spread of the fire.

A fire in the brush along Forestory road between Braintree and West Quincy burned a considerable distance toward Sunnyside Park before it was checked by four fire companies from Quincy.

Legal Tape Blocks Two Deserted Babies From Home of Luxury

LUXURY OR POVERTY—WHICH WILL IT BE?

Bobbie and Audrey Ainslie, barred from legal entrance into a home of wealth by the disappearance of their mother, Mrs. Marie Newton Ainslie, divorced wife of George J. Ainslie. A childless young woman, wife of a prominent New Yorker, wishes to take Bobbie and Audrey from a boarding school in Riverdale.

New York, Nov. 3.—A beautiful young woman, her arms laden with toys, stepped from a car at the Riverdale Seminary, a private school and boarding home, on Feldston road, Riverdale, and addressed eager inquiries to Mrs. Harriet Hadden, the principal:

"How are my darlings? Are they well? Oh, Mrs. Hadden, have you solved my problem? Can my husband and I have little Audrey and Bobbie?"

The young woman is the wife of a New York business man of wealth and culture. "My Darlings" are chubby little three and four-year old Audrey and Bobbie Ainslie.

Two years ago they were left in the care of Mrs. Hadden by Mrs. Marie Josephine Newton Ainslie, divorced wife of Gerald Ainslie, son of the millionaire proprietor of the Ainslie Art Galleries on Fifth avenue.

Young Mrs. Ainslie was a dancer in Rector's, former resort of Broadway pleasure seekers. When she brought the babies to the Riverdale school she listed herself as the mother of the children and George J. Ainslie as the father.

GOOD HOME IS READY.

Now one of the most complicated legal problems that ever faced a jurist has developed. Mrs. Ainslie has disappeared. Ainslie refuses to accept responsibility for the children, and until certain technicalities of the law are ironed out Mrs. Hadden is unable to place Audrey and Bobbie in the yearning arms of the wealthy young pair who desire to adopt them.

Mrs. Hadden in speaking of the beautiful young wife who had been a fairy godmother to the little Ainslie boy and girl, said:

"The divorced mother brought these charming little ones to me two years ago. Sh seemed very sad. She contracted to pay $75 a month for their keep and said she loved them so much it broke her heart to leave them.

"She told me she had another child, now six, Lloyd Newton Ainslie, but that after her trouble with her husband this child was taken by the grandfather.

"Their real mother has come to see them just three times in two years. Last May remittances for their support ceased.

REPUDIATED CHILDREN.

"She had given me the name of her husband as the one who would accept responsibility. I went down to see him at the Ainslie galleries. He was gruff and curtly refused assistance. In fact, he repudiated the children.

"In the meantime, a lovely young married woman, wife of a well known New Yorker, saw the children when she came here to visit and fell in love with them.

"She brings them presents constantly and says it is her dearest wish to give them a home of luxury. But her hands are tied and so are mine."

Mrs. Hadden said young Ainslie had come to her school but once since the weeping mother placed the children there. Then he asked to see the youngest child. The child was taken to an automobile in which sat the elder Ainslie, who scrutinized the baby carefully and then drove away, accompanied by his son.

HENRY LEHRMAN HAS SUED "PROFANE" WIFE

Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—Henry Lehrman, motion picture producer and fiance of Virginia Rappe, for whose death "Fatty" Arbuckle was tried and acquitted, is suing for divorce. Lehrman, who said he was completely broken by Miss Rappe's death, married a few months thereafter.

He alleges his wife not only hurled strong language against him, but frequently made him the target for household utensils. Lehrman says on one occasion their landlady made them move out because of his wife's profanity.

DETECTIVE ACCUSED OF POISONING WOMAN

Montreal, Nov. 3.—John O'Grady, formerly a member of the Montreal police department today was charged with the murder of Mrs. Violet Carr, who died from the effects of poison in O'Grady's apartment.

A coroner's jury said O'Grady's protestations of innocence were unsatisfactory. O'Grady now is head of a detective agency.

TAMPA'S EXPLOITS STIR ADVENTURESOME

Corn and beans—and even "Mulligan"—considered, it's a great life!

In the "dry navy"—that is.

Keeping books or selling neckties or mending Fords may be all right, in their way, but this bounding over the waves after rum-runners, is something else again.

There's going to be a dearth in the male population of Boston when the United States Coast Guard Cutter Tampa, puts to sea again.

If you don't believe it, ask Captain Gordon W. McLean and the officers of the Tampa.

Clerks, secretaries, skilled machinists, college students, young men of all walks of life are turning into Pier No. 1 at the Charlestown Navy Yard and asking the skipper for a job.

When the crack Coast Guard Cutter Tampa trudges up the harbor with a line of rum-running vessels tied neatly behind, and thousands of dollars worth of liquor aboard, after a running gun fight off Block Island, she breaks into large sized print. And she stays there when the bootlegging crew of the Marjorie E. Bachman bring against her officers and crew the most spectacular charges ever brought against the United States Navy.

To scores of Boston youths, however, the Tampa spells romance with a capital letter and a chance to exchange the flavor of sea-going police duty for the drab routine of office or store.

"It's actually quite a problem," declared Captain MacLean, today, "to take care of the young chaps who are coming here every day to enlist.

"We had previously considered it rather difficult to get enough of the best types of men to man our craft.

"Since the Tampa's activities among the liquor boats, however, we have been fairly besieged with skilled, clean young men from various occupations who wish to enlist. All of them are educated, of fine habits and from good homes. We are enabled to make an especially fine choice and we shall have the best of them in six months."

Captain MacLean, speaking for officers and men of the Tampa, made the first public comment to the Boston American about the cry of "theft" which went up from Captain Harry [illegible] and his men, of the Bachman, when the latter charged the naval officers with stealing their money and personal belongings.

All charges for merchandise purchased between November 1 and Christmas, may be paid with account to be rendered on January 1, 1925.

HARVARD ALL PRIMED AND POLISHED FOR PRINCETON

CRIMSON PICKED TO WIN OUT

By NICK FLATLEY.

HARVARD, with a better advance chance for glory than has been the case for years, plays the Princeton Tiger at the Stadium Saturday. Harvard will go into the game a slight favorite, which is surprising, as the Bengals have just as good a record as the Crimson, and have advanced just as rapidly. This really should be an even money proposition. The Tigers were beaten by Notre Dame, but that will happen to any team that collides with the Rockne riot. Harvard was beaten by Dartmouth, mostly because the boys couldn't hang onto the football. The Jungle outfit showed a wonderful kick and plenty of fighting spirit by coming through in the final period to beat the Navy. Harvard was forced to surge in the closing moments against Holy Cross, and did that little thing.

THE psychology of this particular pastime is all with the Crimson, however. Much poorer Harvard teams have come down to the first Big Three game against much better Tiger teams. And Harvard has generally won. It has taken all kinds of breaks and plenty of luck to accomplish this, but has been accomplished usually. Wherefore, it is easy to see why those who should know are willing to give the Cambridge clan a pretty big edge when the teams seem fairly matched.

* * *

THEN there is the universally prevalent belief that this present Harvard team will produce a startling amont of football when it comes to the real test in the big games, with Princeton and Yale. The Fishermen have displayed the makings on several occasions. They showed power against Dartmouth that was practically irresistible at times. They erased the value of it by sloppy fundamental work, but the old punch was there. And it's a cinch that the errors have been eliminated in the last two weeks of drilling. We talked with one scout up at Dartmouth Saturday. He has seen them all, and it's his opinion that Harvard, when brought to the ultimate assault, will provide a brand of football that nobody but Notre Dame could discount.

YALE will collect a slight rest Saturday, and needs that little thing badly. The Elis have emerged from two ties and one lucky victory in the past three weeks. Their record isn't much, but the experience will help them when the Tigers and Harvard come along on successive weeks ends.

* * *

BOSTON COLLEGE has apparently wheeled into form, and should surge through the rest of the campaign without much bother. The Eagles cashed in on the breaks Saturday before the poor Indians knew what it was all about. Only the good teams get "all" the breaks. Marquette looked like the most formidable of all opponents, until Creighton ruined them out in the West. That wrecked a three-year run of victory. Creighton is the team that had Haskell licked until John Levi broke loose and tied the score up.

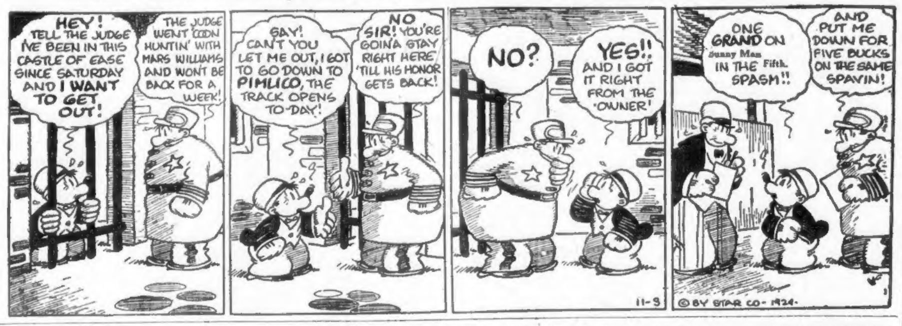
YACHT COUNTESS BOUGHT BY C. SHERMAN HOYT

C. Sherman Hoyt, secretary of the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound and one of the cleverest amateur skippers in this country, purchased the New York 30-footer Countess from J. B. Dunbaugh.

Dunbaugh and W. H. Hoffman have bought the New York Yacht Club 40-footer Shawara, which they will race next season. Mr. Hoyt plans to race the Countess in her class next year.

Moe and Joe They Get the Dough--Sometimes

Well, they had to beat a great horse to beat Moe out of his dough Saturday, but they turned the trick all K. O. We have a new deck today and the meeting looks good to our plunger. Just watch him wreck those mutuel machines. They are meat for him. Cash in kick $22,385.21.



HEY! TELL THE JUDGE I'VE BEEN IN THIS CASTLE OF EASE SINCE SATURDAY AND I WANT TO GET OUT!

SLAGLE ADDS STRENGTH TO TIGERS

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 3.—With only four days left for practice before encountering John Harvard, Saturday, the Princeton football team swung into vigorous action today.

Keene Fitzpatrick stated that there were no injuries as a result of the Swarthmore game, and that Bill Roper will be able to use his full strength in practice this week, as well as against Harvard.

The return of Juke Slagle, who has been given a rest most of the past week, is expected to add much to the Tiger attack. The speedy sophomore is the best punter Princeton has, throws forward passes well, and is a fine open field runner.

It should be quite a punting duel between Slagle and either Hammond or Gehrke of Harvard on Soldiers field this week-end, with both teams waiting eagerly for any breaks.

In spite of the green material at the start of the season, Herb Treat has managed to develop two fair tackles in both Beattie and Turk Gates. Both of them showed what they could do by partially stopping Notre Dame's attack a week ago.

Beattie has exceeded the coaches' hopes so far and unless he falls down badly should hold his own with the Harvard tackle. His speed in getting down under punts has been a valuable asset.

The attitude of the student body was well expressed Saturday when time was called for Buzz Stout, who seemed to have suffered a slight injury. At once the Tiger stands set up a chant "Take him out," "Take him out."

Visitors must have been startled at hearing the undergraduates shouting to have their captain leave the game, but all Princeton adherents at once understood that what the students wanted was for Bill Roper not to take any chances, but to leave Stout for the Harvard and Yale encounters.

MIAMI OFFICIALS PLAN CHANGE IN GOLF DATES

Plans for the open golf tournament at Miami, Fla., have undergone a slight change. Originally December 5 and 6 were fixed for this event, but on the suggestion of a committee of the professionals who will participate, the meeting has been put back one week. George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, the British pros, will arrive in America the latter part of November, and will proceed South immediately to Miami. From the Florida resort they will go to the Pacific Coast for a tour of the courses there. Hagen, Kirkwood, Sarazen, Farrell, Cruickshank, Brady, Diegel, Hutchison, Armour, Barnes, Reid, Walker and other well known pros have agreed to take part in the tournament at Miami.

Bad News for Gate Crashers

Dead Heads Must Dig Down

THERE was a nice little bit of news slipped to the sporting editors the other afternoon. It came from the committee handling the Suffolk show at Mechanics next Wednesday night. It contains the cheering information that the free list for this evening has been limited to an even hundred deadhead passes and that positively no more will be issued. This means that old gate-crashers and other "Annie Oakley" chasers will have to dig if they desire to see the matchers.

THE club leaders believe their entertainment will be well worth the prices charged for the feature will be a meeting between Maloney and Sharkey and it will be some fight.

BOTH boys have been coming along at a fast clip and they have reached the stage where one or the other must step down. The bout will settle matters and settle them decisively.

SHARKEY is being groomed by the veteran Twin Sullivan, who knows every trick and blow in the boxing game, while Maloney has surrounded himself with an army of experts seldom seen at any camp outside of Dempsey's which means that alibis for lack of condition are out of the question.

THE news of the bout itself is secondary in importance to the announcement regarding the gate-crashers. It is a daring thing to do and the Sporting Editors wish it might be tried oftener.

Lo, the Poor Indian

Haskell's Powerful Machine a Flivver.

THE great Indian massacre is over.

The Haskell boys have come and gone without even disturbing a sod in Braves Field. The grid-stars whom we were given to understand would surely steal Jim Thorpe's laurels failed to show.

The poor Indians had little more than their football togs on the field of action. Thorpe's record is safe and the man who defeated Harvard single-handed, 16-0, has nothing to fear.

There is only one Jim Thorpe—the Redman to succeed him has not yet seen the light of day.

Too much was expected from the Haskell boys, who were over-press-agented—a million-dollar outfit on paper, but hopelessly unable to live up to all broad claims sent out by the Indian boosters.

It takes more than a few wild and wierd names to put over a winning football team.

The slump of the Indians caused almost as much of a surprise as the defeat of the Marquette team, which is the next attraction at Braves Field.

The week-ends are getting tough on the football dopesters and Saturday's selections will bear plenty of watching.

CRIMSON'S LINEUP SATURDAY VIRTUALLY SETTLED

With two exceptions, the makeup of the Harvard eleven, which will face Princeton, Saturday, is virtually decided.

Harvard probably will start Leonard Robb and Phil Chase at ends, Captain Mal Greenough and Clem Coady at tackles, Leo Daley and Helmie Dunker at guards, and Jack Adie at center, with Dolph Cheek at quarter, Jack Hammond and Al Miller at halves, and Erwin Gehrke at full in the backfield.

The exceptions are Dunker at guard and Cheek at quarter.

If Dunker shows as much improvement in his physical condition this week, he will start. Even then he may be unable to finish the game. In either case, Phil Theopold is likely to replace him.

Although Cheek is the most likely choice as starting quarterback, the Crimson has three other signal-barkers to pick from — Stafford, Spalding and McGlone.

The choice of starting quarterback will be determined to a great extent by the tactics which Harvard coaches intend to pursue.

Three of the sure starters will be sophomores, Miller at halfback, Daley at guard, and Coady at tackle.

Coady, who has been handicapped by an operation for appendicitis which he underwent during the Summer, showed up so well against Boston University Saturday that he practically clinched the job.

Daley is probably Harvard's best lineman this year, a distinction Dunker would have held, had he not been stricken with diphtheria late in September.

The outstanding feature of Saturday's game with B. U. was the all-around play of Jack Maher, former Choate School athlete. Maher sent high punts a distance of 50 yards beyond the line of scrimmage on two occasions and the rest of his punting was good, while he intercepted several forward passes and proved himself the best ball-carrier on the field.

Maher is bound to see action against Princeton, Saturday, and so will several other substitute backs, among them Izzy Zarakov, Dolph Samborski and possibly Nat Howe and George Braden.

HUB SKATERS TO COMPETE IN CANADA

Montreal, Nov. 3.—The best skaters, members of ski clubs and snow shoe enthusiasts from Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago will be invited to participate in the extensive Winter Sports Carnival that is to be staged at Quebec City this Winter at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec.

Mr. E. Dee Bailleta, newly appointed sports director, is making arrangements. They are founding what will be known as "The Frontenac Winter Club," which will interest itself in arrangements for international competitions in figure-skating, curling, ski running, ski jumping and hockey.

There also is a proposal to arrange competitions between Canadian and American colleges. Plans are underway to try and build a new modern ski jump to comply with the requirements and rules of the Olympic games.

The suggestion now is to stage two international competitions—one during the Christmas-New Year's holiday season and the other some time in February.

Skating masquerades may also be arranged, and possibly ice palaces—that were such a feature of Canadian Winter sports years ago.

SOCCER SCOUTS IN TORONTO FOR HUB TEAM

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 3.—Soccer clubs of Boston and Fall River, Mass. have sent representatives here in search of playing material. Two leading forwards are said to have agred to join the clubs.

It was learned today that the All Scotts, a leading Canadian club, has signed Stewart and Bonar of the Summerfield-Irish Alliance League for the game with the Detroit Celtics on Thanksgiving.

oBttin gis 6 to 5 on the All Scots, who probably will play two New York teams on the rip.

RACING OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT FOR SOUTH

New Orleans, La., Nov. 3.—The outlook for racing in this city during the long Winter months could not be brighter. The new owners of Jefferson Park, Messrs. Robert S. Eddy, Jr., James Lemaire, Robert S. Maestri and R. A. Leigh, enjoy the confidence of the local patrons of the sport and their new venture seems assured of strong support.

The meeting of Jefferson Park will open on Thanksgiving day and continue until December 31. The Spring meeting, which follows the close at the Fair Grounds, will continue until March 17, will have as its chief feature the Jefferson Derby with an added value of $17,500.

PRO HOCKEY TO OPEN HERE NOV. 29

Montreal, Que., Nov. 3.—The Montreal Professional Hockey Club and Boston Hockey Club were formally admitted to membership at the annual meeting of the National Hockey League here, ratifying the action taken at a recent special meeting.

Colonel Hammond, on behalf of Tex Rickard, presented to President Frank Calder of the N. H. L., the gold pen which was used in signing the agreements that brought international professional hockey in the East into being.

New governors to represent the latest hockey units were chosen, James Strachan being named for the new Montreal club and Art Ross for the Boston club.

Five tentative schedules submitted by President Calden, were considered. One was finally adopted, although it is to be materially changed, and will not be announced until tomorrow. The opening date will be November 29, with Canadien at home to the Toronto St. Patricks, while the New Montreal Club will open at Boston. Ottawa will play at Hamilton.

Art Ross will gather his Boston club here on November 13.

N. Y. SYNDICATE TO BUILD 6-METRE YACHT FOR RACE

New York, Nov. 3.—A syndicate made up of members of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club of Oyster Bay will build a new six-metre boat, it was announced, to try for the honor of being the yacht which will represent the club as challenger in the races next July on the Clyde for the Seawanhaka cup, now held by the Royal Northern Yacht Club of Glasgow. The Seawanhaka Corinthians sent a challenge some time ago to the Royal Northern Yacht Club, which was accepted.

Clinton H. Crane, who has plans under way for a new six-metre to be built by himself in conjunction with Commodore W. A. W. Stewart, will also draw the plans for the syndicate boat. Mr. Crane was the designer of Heron, the six-metre which was chosen for the American team in the last international races and which made an excellent showing in strong breezes.

The Seawanhaka cup was captured at Marblehead in September, 1922, by Coila III., the noted six-metre which was a member of the British team which came over that year. Coila III. successfully defended the cup against the American challenger Lea the following year in races held on the Clyde following the British-American cup match on the Solent.

ROWING OFFICIALS MEET AND SET ROWING DATES

New York, Nov. 3.—The American Rowing Association, composed of nine Eastern universities, met at the Harvard Club to draw up rowing schedules for the coming season. Dates were assigned the Childs Cup regatta and American Henley, and in the conference representatives of each university agreed on the schedule of dual and triangular contests. However, no announcement was forthcoming as to the action taken at the meeting.

Among those present were Maxwell Stevenson and Reynolds Benson, Columbia; John Arthur Brown, Pennsylvania; J. M. Goetchius, Yale; Romeyn Berry, Cornell; Lieut Commander Greenman, Naval Academy; Dr. Duncan Spaeth, Princeton; John Richardson, Harvard, and G. B. Thurston, Syracuse.

Election Golf at Long Island

New York, Nov. 3.—The Laurelton Golf Club of Laurelton, L. I., has decided to award the club championship to the player making low gross in competition which it is to stage Election Day. Following the golf the Laurelton members will gather in the clubhouse for a dinner and dance.

BOWIE RACING WILL BEGIN NOVEMBER 17

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 3.—The Southern Maryland Agricultural Association is out with its stake announcement for the coming Fall meeting at Bowie, which includes three $10,000 races and one $7,500.

The Bowie meeting will open on November 17 and continue until November 29. Handicap, two-year-old and upwards, one mile; Endurance handicap, two-year-olds, one mile, and the Thanksgiving Handicap three year-olds and upwards, one and three-sixteenths miles. Each of these will have $10,000 added.

ROCKNE TO TELL COAST COACHES HOW ITS DONE

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 3.—Knute K. Rockne, Notre Dame football mentor, will take his system of gridiron instruction to the Pacific Northwest next Summer, having accepted the invitation of Coach Paul Schissler of Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis to instruct a coaching school there, June 22 to July 1.

HILDRETH TO DISPOSE OF CLASSY HORSES

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 3.—In disposing of Honor to E. R. Bradley for $10,000 and Stanwix to J. C. Milam for $6,000 Trainer Sam Hildreth of the Rancocas stable intimated there will be a general weeding out of the Sinclair stable's stock. Hildreth said he had 165 horses to take up and only 150 stalls, making it expedient to get rid of some of them.

Grassin in Six-Day

Paris, France, Nov. 3.—Robert Grassin has decided to be a competitor in the next six-day race in this city.

MALONEY AND SHARKEY FIT FOR BATTLE

By JACK CONWAY

JACK SHARKEY and Jim Maloney, named in the list of the six leading heavyweight contenders by Tex Rickard, will settle the question of supremacy when they battle in a ten-round bout at the Suffolk A. A. show at Mechanics Building on Wednesday night. The winner of this tussle will be in a position to continue his march in the direction of a bout with Jack Dempsey, the loser will have to start all over again.

It is what the promoters term a "natural." There is intense rivalry between Sharkey and Maloney, while the men are also evenly matched.

This contest has aroused more local interest than any bout staged in Boston since Young Kloby and Nate Siegal battled at Braves Field four years ago last Columbus Day. On that occasion fans came from all parts of New England to see the Y. D champion in action against the Beachmont favorite.

The fact that Sharkey and Maloney are heavyweights as well as local sons adds to the interest in the tussle. Heavyweights always have the call with the fans. You see people at heavyweight matches who never attend an ordinary show. Everybody appears anxious to be close to the ring when the young men with the tremendous punches go forth in action.

SHARKEY and Maloney are both in fine condition. The rival ring men will keep active at their training camps today and tomorrow, so that they will be in razor edge condition when the bell sounds for the opening of their contest.

Jack (Twin) Sullivan, veteran Cambridge boxer who has been training Sharkey, will also be in the latter's corner Wednesday night. Johnny Lynch, former Cambridge boxer, will also assist Manager Johnny in directing Sharkey.

MALONEY is working out with Tom Kirby and a flock of other sparring partners. From Maloney's work in training it is apparent he plans a rushing battle. He will try to win by a knockout inside of five rounds.

Maloney still remains a 10 to 8 favorite in the betting. The majority of the rank and file of the fans figure that Maloney's terrific punch will give him the victory. Among the gentlemen who follow the fistic racket for a living, Sharkey can't see how a fast, clever boxer like Sharkey, who can hit with either hand, can fail to win by a kayo. They set seven rounds as the limit for the bout.

TOM KIRBY, Olympic boxing star, will have Jackie Clark of Allentown, Pa., as an opponent in the semi-final of eight rounds. Sammy Fuller of the North End will oppose Charley Baxter of Woonsocket in another eight. Walter Wolf protege of Jack Sharkey, will tackle Martin Flaherty, Jr., in a third eight. Just so that everybody will be happy, Matchmaker Tom Goodwin will have Bart O'Neil, who defeated Kirby in the amateurs, oppose one of the local middleweights.

HOPPE TO PLAY SCHAEFFER FOR 18.2 BILLIARD TITLE

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Willie Hoppe accepted the challenge of young Jake Schaeffer to play him two matches for the 18.2 balkline billiard championship of 3,200 points each, in eight blocks of 400 points each, on afternoons and evenings, the first match to take place in Los Angeles, November 25, 26 and 28, and the second at San Francisco, December 2, 3, 4 and 5.

The match will have a direct bearing on the international balkline championship, which will take place in February.

O'Connor in Training

Winnie O'Connor is going into training to fit himself for riding through the field at Pimlico. O'Connor rode with success on the flat in this country before going to France and performed with credit on the flat and over the jumps abroad, but never rode over the obstacles in this country.

Abroad, he won every major jumping race with the exception of the Grand National.

SPORTING AMERICAN

MANY CHANGES PROPOSED IN A. A. U. RULES

MAY DROP SEVERAL EVENTS

Delegates from all parts of the United States will assemble in Atlantic City on Sunday, November 16, for the annual convention of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

They will be engaged for the succeeding two days legislating for the amateur athletes of this country, passing upon the records which have been broken during the past year; acting upon applications for reinstatement to the amateur ranks, discussing problems concerning the welfare of the youth of the nation and the improvement of the playground and other recreational facilities for boys and girls of the congested districts, awarding the national championships for the year in the various sports over which the A. A. U. has jurisdiction, and electing a president, four vice presidents and a secretary-treasurer for the ensuing year.

This is the thirty-sixth annual meeting of this the largest and most important of all amateur sport governing bodies, and, according to Secretary Frederick W. Rubien, the work of the Union is increasing to such an extent that it will probably be necessary to hold the convention over four days in the future, instead of three.

The legislation committee, of which Justice Verne R. C. Lacy of St. Louis, is chairman, has prepared a long list of amendments to the constitution, by-laws, general and athletic rules of the Union and taking previous years as a criterion, the discussions which will follow the presentation of these amendments for a vote will consume the better part of the first day of the meeting.

One of these proposed amendments calls for the dropping of the standing high and broad jump events from the national indoor championship program and the inclusion of a five-mile race and a two-mile steeplechase race without the usual water jump.

Another asks that the fifty-six pound weight be dropped from the regular outdoor program and leave it optional with the championship committee whether it shall be held in any one year.

There is also a proposal to add a fifteen-mile and a twenty-mile race to the national championship program, having in mind the development of distance runners for the next Olympic games.

C. W. Streit Jr., chairman of the A. A. U. wrestling committee and the man who successfully managed the American Olympic wrestling team which won the world's championship in Paris last July, has offered a number of changes in the wrestling code so as to make the rules under which our wrestlers compete in this country conform more closely to those which govern the contests in the Olympic games.

The double wrist lock, which proved so effective against the foreign wrestlers in the Olympic games, is barred in A. A. U. competition.

Since this hold is allowed in the Olympic and other international contests Chairman Streit feels that the wrestlers of this country should be encouraged to become proficient in the use of it for such competitions.

If John T. Taylor of Pittsburgh, chairman of the swimming committee, has his way the outdoor swimming programme in the future will consist of the same list of events that appeared on the Olympic programme in France this year.

This means that in addition to the usual free style, back and breast strokes and diving events swimming fans will witness for the first time America's leading water polo players battling for an American championship in water polo in an outdoor pool.

Revere High's Scrappy Squad Keeps Grid Leaders Worried

By FRED C. LANE.

There is little of [illegible] of Revere High's football team winning the North Shore League pennant this season but to date it has [illegible] the going exceedingly [illegible] for [illegible] teams in the [illegible] School [illegible] have designs on the [illegible].

The team might have had a fighting chance for the big honors had they the services of their regular coach, Bob Keefe, on the job when [illegible].

[illegible] would have it Coach [illegible] opening of school and [illegible] necessary for Assistant Coach [illegible] to take over the [illegible] and [illegible] he worked wonders with the [illegible] did not develop rapidly [illegible] Revere has had a rather hectic career on the striped field. They have won two games from heavy opponents and dropped the same number of contests. Peabody and Lynn Classical, the two leaders in the league, took the scrappy Revere team into camp but not until they had worked every play in their bag of tricks.

In fact, Revere High up till the Marblehead game was the only [illegible] to score on Peabody. They [illegible] for [illegible] although [illegible] weighed [illegible] a man.

[illegible] Revere is [illegible] gave Coach Keefe little [illegible]. Every [illegible] who reports for [illegible] is used [illegible] the team [illegible] during the [illegible].

The [illegible] game of the Revere warriers is to beat W[illegible].

The team this season is heavier than last, but they are not to be compared with their opponents in the league. What they lack in weight they make up in fight, as every team that has met the locals will verify.

Coach Keefe has a splendid backfield this season, but a mediocre line. He has the faculty of building brilliant backs, but unfortunately is handicapped for linemen.

"Jacks" Hurley is the star performer on the club. He has been the big scoring factor but is well [illegible] his work by "Jiggs" Kirk [illegible]. The latter is [illegible] quarterback [illegible] with [illegible] for [illegible].

[illegible] the [illegible] playing for the [illegible] the [illegible] to school next year. This [illegible] would be encouraging to supporters and fans alike, for it has been years since Revere has had the fight and pep that has been shown this season.

Zbyszko and Londos for Arena Card

There will be an all-star wrestling card at the Boston Arena tonight.

Wladek Zbyszko, who has engaged in some rugged bouts in Boston, will have Jimmy Londos, Greek grappler, as an opponent in the feature contest which will be to a finish. Both men are well known to mat fans and are expected to furnish a flock of action.

Renato Gardini, Italian heavyweight, will also appear on the card. He will [illegible]. In another bout Jack [illegible] will have Myles Stenhorn as an opponent.

REVERE UPSETS DOPE, DRAWING WITH SAINTS

The Revere City team proved it was a much underrated eleven when it held the St. Alphonsus [illegible] to a scoreless tie at Fenway Park. Four times the amusement [illegible] boys were within scoring distance. Their best advance was halted on the Saint's four-yard line by a costly eleven. Neal Harrington, all-star scholastic punter in '22, put Revere repeatedly on the upper hand with his magnificent kicking.

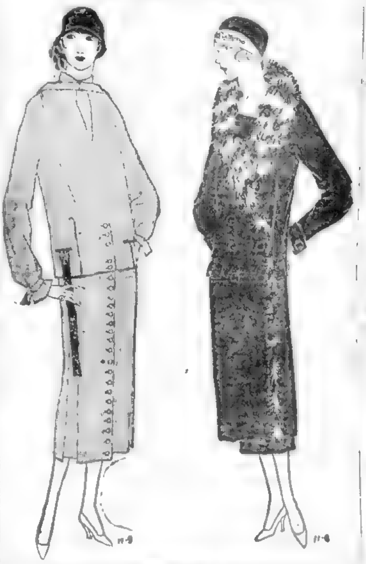
Paris Sends New Ideas



This frock is one of the youthful jumper models shown by Yteb. Both jumper and skirt are of reddish [illegible] or kasha—for this model is made in both materials [illegible] quaintly with straps and buttons of the same [illegible] the binding on the pockets is another material [illegible] black satin [illegible] from the right hand pocket hangs a silver fob tipped with a long, black satin streamer. The neck of the bodice is slashed for a short distance at the center of the front and the narrow collar, formed of a strip of the material, crosses at the opening and one end, by passing through a slit in the other, allows both ends to fall over the shoulders at the back. The fullness at the cuff is held in in the same manner. At each side of the skirt is an inverted pleat which gives a practical width to the lower edge. From tunic to hem extends a row of small buttons fastening the skirt at the center of the front and continuing the line already started on the lower port of the jumper.

An exceedingly smart coat from Renee is sketched herewith. Built on strictly tailored lines of a heavy black woolen fabric with a soft cheviot-like surface, this useful garment is a most sensible model for Winter wear. A deep shawl collar of civet continues down the edge of the coat to the hem as a facing about five inches in width. There are six buttons in black galalith fastening the coat in double-breasted fashion, an arrangement which goes admirably with the slightly fitted lines at the waist.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

"I TRUSTED You and You Done Me Dirt!"

In the vernacular of the year 1924 that statement sums up Mrs. R's complaint [illegible] to Mrs. R, she has been trusting some one. A [illegible] has been "doing her dirt." So now she has [illegible] that Faith doesn't pay, and she wants me to publish that fact [illegible] a few mean remarks of my own.

Let me state [illegible] that I sympathize [illegible] just [illegible]

I, [illegible] every [illegible] minute I [illegible] where I got my complexion, the latest family row, my favorite beau, and why I got "canned" from my last job.

[illegible] to lend them my umbrella. As a consequence most [illegible] it and "hocked" the umbrella, forged my name to a check, swiped my beau and duplicated my complexion.

After a few years of such treatment [illegible] ing. [illegible] childlike nature began to sour [illegible] how [illegible] constant betrayal of that faith?

Bit by bit I found the answer:

No one has any sympathy for a fool!

I had started out in life with a code of conduct which might have worked perfectly in Heaven, but was [illegible] to handling [illegible] as a cute [illegible]

That beautiful code of mine wasn't [illegible] really was the [illegible] selfishness, stu[illegible] I didn't want to bother to make a code which would fit real people. I wanted them to accept the pretty little program I had invented and fit their facts to my fancies. I didn't want to work [illegible] for my happiness and peace. I didn't want to have a fight to protect them. I expected all the rest of humanity to forgo their natural criminal instincts and hand me happiness and peace on a silver platter. And when they didn't I thought I was a martyr. And hated everyone wholesale. But it really was my own fault!

Isn't that just about what you've been doing, Pal? Hasn't you "Faith" [illegible] feature which you [illegible] to make and haven't you been [illegible] sufficient use of [illegible] and backbone?

Are You Losing Your Usefulness?

Do You Feel Old, Worn Out and Suffer Constant Backache?

Then You Should Look to Your Kidneys!

ARE you dragging around day after day, lame and achy; miserable with constant backache; tortured by stabbing pains? Do you feel tired and nervous—so utterly worn out it seems you just can't get back in trim?

Then why not look to your kidneys as so many Boston folks have done?

Your kidneys are constantly filtering impurities from the blood. But sluggish kidneys allow poisons to accumulate which upset the whole system.

Then comes persistent backache, rheumatic pains, headaches and annoying bladder irregularities; you feel tired, dizzy, nervous and depressed.

Don't wait for more serious troubles. Help your weakened kidneys before it is too late! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have brought new health to thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Boston Folks:

MRS. CATHERINE KIMBALL, 117 Appleton St., says: "My kidneys acted too often and my back was lame and weak. Stooping caused sharp pains to shoot across my back and I could hardly get up again. Mornings my back was stiff. I was dizzy and specks blurred my sight. Two boxes of Doan's Pills entirely rid me of the trouble."

LOUIS McGARRIGLE, 198 Elm St., Cambridge, says: "My back was lame and when I stooped I could hardly raise on account of sharp pains in my back. Nights I couldn't rest comfortably and mornings my back was stiff. My kidneys were so disordered that my rest was disturbed at [illegible] Doan's Pills from Liggett's Drug Store entirely cured me and the cure has lasted."

Puny Babies Can Grow to sturdy children

Note which foods best agree. Be quick to stop constipation with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

PARENTS need not despair because a baby is frail. Progress often rests upon the next trifling change in or addition to the diet.

Watch diet, digestion and elimination. There should be two or three stools a day, and as solider food is eaten, one or two. If there are less, and there is belching, wind, bad breath, symptoms that indicate constipation, give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and by morning you will have a [illegible]

Not all laxatives, however, are suited to young children, as many contain opiates and narcotics. Syrup Pepsin is entirely free from them, and is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant tasting aromatics. The formula is on every package.

Experienced mothers like Mrs. T. Breeman, [illegible] and Mrs. Walter Morris [illegible] other laxative medicines [illegible] that [illegible] and is a great [illegible] cathartic pill and [illegible] which children hate to take.

Buy a bottle of Syrup Pepsin at a drug store, the cost being less than a cent a dose, and if it does not come up to these claims your money will be refunded.

A laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be used by all members of the family, for it is safe and yet effective. It has been successfully sold for over thirty years and is today the most widely used general laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles being bought by the public annually.

Use it for constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, flatulence, indigestion, headache, fevers and colds, and all other disorders associated with imperfect or infrequent passage. Many people use it regularly once a week as a mild flushing of the bowels, and in that way escape the dangers of constipation altogether. Just a spoonful now and then is a wonderful stabilizer of health.

NORA LEE

A Story of Flaming Youth

Heart and Soul of 1924 Flapper Laid Bare in Best Story by Author of "Chickie"

START THE STORY HERE TODAY

[illegible] Meadows married Will Lee at seventeen. His dissolute [illegible] made her miserable. The night he raised his hand to his two-year-old child in a drunken rage she slipped from his home with her baby. Margaret supported her daughter by teaching school in several villages, finally settling in Fairdale, where she met Andrew and they fell in love. But he was tied to an invalid wife and Margaret refused to let him leave her. Nora at 17 fell in love with Dane Herrick. Andrew's wife recovers and attacks him with a pistol. He says good-by to Nora Lee and gives her a packet of bonds. Andrew is killed in an auto accident, and his widow demands the bonds of Nora.

NOW CONTINUE THE STORY

By ELENORE MEHERIN

"Y[illegible] Margaret [illegible] I [illegible] to get away from the house, [illegible] I leave it, I [illegible]

[illegible]

Nora [illegible] heart leaped [illegible] her throat [illegible] Margaret [illegible] Once [illegible] to her room. Her desk had been opened. Papers were strewn on the floor.

The Bonds Safe

Without stopping to gather the [illegible]

Emotions Exalted

[illegible] Nora Lee [illegible] So it [illegible] Andrew and Margaret [illegible] With the ruthless scorn of [illegible], Nora Lee [illegible] love was the first [illegible] the last [illegible] and for one lover [illegible] She had an [illegible] of [illegible] It was grotesque that people with [illegible] wrinkled faces and hearts with the pearl dew of youth all vanished [illegible] should walk [illegible] under moonlight.

[illegible] she [illegible] not ready to face any tangible problem. She thought of herself married to Dane, but it was always in this vague, tender way. Yes, they would marry—they would be [illegible] they would have gardens [illegible] they would saunter down leafy paths when the day was done. They would stop in moments of ecstasy to gaze rapturously in each other's eyes. In these pictures neither ever grew old.

When Dane Fiddled

She sometimes thought of their children. Dane could fiddle a little—indeed, quite well. When he played his laughing eyes took on a deep, inspired look. Nora Lee listened and felt her heart melting—felt it flowing away in a sad stream of joy—[illegible] she felt [illegible] he drew the bow [illegible] her being and it gave up notes of living music.

Then she thought of [illegible] that would have—a radiant child. She would see its face [illegible] and dreamy with brown-gold curls and eyes like his. She would see it walking to her, four or five years old, running to her down a beam of light. It was waiting for her somewhere in tufty clouds like the unborn children in the "Blue Bird."

When the dream sometimes faded and the material facts of marriage and [illegible] poverty, distressing [illegible]

Nora Lee was [illegible] Then [illegible] Andrew [illegible] send [illegible] She [illegible] believed herself a genius [illegible] The [illegible] gifts [illegible]

A Secret Aim

She wrote in her diary: "I believe I have a gift for writing, but no one knows this yet, except perhaps Mr. Bell. He wrote on my last theme, [illegible] Alan Seis [illegible]

I have not told [illegible] before [illegible] I am [illegible] have an [illegible] and a life [illegible] the same [illegible] beyond the [illegible] the touch of money. When I write even the four letters [illegible] my hand shakes. Why is this? I [illegible] him looking over my shoulder [illegible] laughing [illegible] face. He's beautiful—[illegible] a man [illegible] be [illegible] beautiful, but [illegible] Strength is beautiful, and Dane is strong. Oh, dear.

"No matter how dark the world would ever be [illegible] when he arrived. I think this is the final test of love, the [illegible] of the [illegible] spirit even from the darkest depths [illegible]

In the very [illegible], even when she [illegible] even then when Dane came I felt a ripple of laughter like a brook with sunlight on it rushing through my heart."

In those subdued hours after Andrew's passing the girl was, indeed, glad for the brightness love offered. Weeks and then months passed. She clung to the house, watching Margaret at times with a heartbreaking fear in her eyes.

Margaret was pale. Her fragile hands seemed almost transparent. Nora Lee would push her to a chair with a storming vehemence. "Oh, you sit down, mother. Don't you dare [illegible] I'm here."

And she would let Margaret see the terror of her spirit, the lurking fear that Margaret, too, would leave. For whole weeks she would refuse to leave her alone an hour.

"Error of a Life"

Finally Margaret said: "[illegible] you know, my gypsy, that I want you [illegible] You can not bear my sorrow. You only double it by trying."

"Now, mother, why do you say such things as though you're shoving me away?"

"They are true. It seems that I have saddled the error of my life upon the brightness of yours. No one can be pardoned for such a sin as that."

Then Nora Lee went up and stood [illegible]

All the Girls of Connie's Crowd Would Be There

[illegible] sweeping everything out of its way. If it can't do this, then it isn't love. And if it can, then only the coward is afraid — only the coward runs out of its path. So that's my belief on these subjects. [illegible]

WAYS OF A HUSBAND

SEQUEL TO "WHEN A GIRL MARRIES"

By Ann Lisle

Ann Lisle

"Y[illegible] been [illegible] I must [illegible] you [illegible] Anne [illegible] you [illegible] that I [illegible] ever have given Tom my first kiss if [illegible] the right [illegible] get along with [illegible] Tom [illegible]" I asked earnestly.

"Yes," Irma replied [illegible]

For a moment [illegible] Then I rose from the bed and, taking Irma's arm [illegible] the soft glow of [illegible] stared questioningly into her blue eyes. They were bright with a [illegible] Suddenly she put her head on my shoulder and I felt her whole body [illegible]

"I can't help it," she managed finally. "I don't want to help it. You can't either, Anne. You love Jim in spite of everything. He—just—appeals to you, and you can't resist."

"It isn't that," I insisted. "Jim is my man. He's the one man in all the world for me. We're both young. We enjoy the same things. We have a great deal in common"—

"Jim's your man, you say," interrupted Irma fiercely. "He's your man in spite of everything. He can hurt you and neglect you, and yet he's your man. Forgive me if I seem brutal, Anne, but I've got to have the truth now."

"I want to help you find it," I agreed.

"Then don't you see? Tom may be a lot of the things you think. He may have done a lot of things I'd rather not know about. But they made Tom what he is now. And what Tom is now makes me [illegible] him so much there is no use struggling against it. I've got to marry Tom. I want to marry him. I couldn't bear to send him away."

At a moment like this I knew how insane it would be to plead another man's cause or to say a word against the man Irma cried [illegible] to in every fibre of her being. [illegible] the [illegible] protest against the [illegible]

"Of course you [illegible] dream of being married until [illegible] uncle comes home," I said.

Irma looked at me strangely. Her lips twisted [illegible] a cryptic smile.

"Why do you say that?" she asked.

"Irma," I protested. "Aren't you going to be [illegible] the dear, old [illegible] who loves [illegible]

"I [illegible] put you in the position where I'd [illegible] have to [illegible]" Irma replied [illegible]

"No, I [illegible] not [illegible] I'm not so selfish. I'm not thinking of myself. I'm considering your [illegible]

"I've a right to my own life. I don't owe anything to anyone. I owe [illegible] myself," exclaimed Irma.

I seemed almost as if I could hear Tom Mason speaking through her lips. It was pitiful [illegible] Irma must be under [illegible] beyond thinking for herself and acting as she would so naturally. Dropping all argument, I insisted with a frankness I felt to be brutal:

"Are you planning to be married at once?"

Irma stared at me with something like hostility. I felt that she was going to refuse to answer.

"Why shouldn't I be married at once?" asked Irma Warren [illegible]

"Why should you be?" I answered as if my heart weren't thumping with apprehension at the [illegible] that Irma was on the verge of rushing into marriage with Tom Mason.

"Why should we wait?" countered Irma. "We're sure to be at odds with all sorts of well-meaning interference. [illegible] been shifted responsibility [illegible] your shoulders when he went away and sent me here. [illegible] since I'm going to marry Tom maybe it will be a relief to my uncle to have it all over before he gets back."

"You couldn't do anything that would hurt him more," I urged.

Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I am to be [illegible] in the early fall, and I should like to know if it is proper for the bridesmaids to wear bandeaux of [illegible] leaves or are hats the proper [illegible] for a church wedding in the morning at 10 o'clock?

(2) Do the [illegible] wear gray ties for morning [illegible]

(3) What is the proper place for the ushers to [illegible] during the ceremony?

A CONSTANT READER

IT is correct for [illegible] bridesmaids to wear either bandeaux or hats, but it is more [illegible] for them to wear hats. For morning weddings hats are more effective.

(2) A gray tie is correct and in excellent taste, and it may be a gray [illegible] or a gray [illegible] the groom [illegible] the ties for the ushers, so that they will [illegible] the most suitable for the ushers to wear is the black [illegible] with a narrow white stripe at wide intervals.

(3) Where the ushers stand depends upon what kind of [illegible] it is and upon its size. At the foot of the chancel the ushers divide and take their places half on one side and half on the other. They stand at the top of the [illegible] or some stand at the top of the chancel steps and some on the steps, or they line the steps, or they all stand in front of the choir stalls—depending, as I say, on the size of the church. Wherever they take their positions they stand so that the bridesmaids can stand in front of them.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

What is the proper thing for a girl to say when leaving a [illegible] to whom she has just been introduced?

What should she say to a gentleman?

H. B.

TO either a lady or a gentleman she says the same kind of thing. If the introduction is casual and there is really no reason why she wishes to be [illegible] enthusiastic she need say nothing [illegible] "Good by," or "Good by, Miss Jones," or "Mr. Smith." She says this graciously and with a gracious smile and bow. If she wishes to indicate an especial interest and enthusiasm in the meeting she can do it most cordially by saying, "Good by, Miss Jones. I am very glad to have met you." And if she wants to register even more friendliness, she may add, "I do hope that I am to see you again sometime"—or "soon" or "very soon."

FAMOUS FIRSTS

By Mark Stuyvesant.

IN an age of great poets, during the epoch of Byron, Wordsworth, Southey, Keats, Coleridge and Scott, a common plowboy, a hired hand on a Scottish farm, began to write verses in the vernacular of his country, the lowland Scotch, which astonished the world.

Poetry has been a gentle gift, a talent of the cultured classes. The ringing verses of Robert Burns were the voice of the common people.

In his short life—he died at the age of thirty-six—Robert Burns wrote hundreds of poems, mostly in dialect, that live on the tongues of an entire nation and are repeated around the earth.

It would seem as though his countrymen wish to make up in veneration for the coldness and lack of appreciation of those who allowed him to die in poverty; his spirit broken by lack of encouragement, in 1796.

Robert Burns was born in Ayr, the son of a poor farmer. From early childhood he earned his bread by farm labor. When he wrote such immortal verses as "The Cottar's Saturday Night," he was a wretched chap living on hard bread and porridge, earning only a few shillings a week.

His early poems when they found a publisher brought him fame but not fortune.

Sir Walter Scott, then a boy of fifteen, saw Robert Burns and thus described him:

"His countenance was more massive than it looks in any of his portraits. His eye was large and of a dark cast and literally glowed when he spoke with feeling. I never saw another such eye in a human head. His conversation expressed perfect self-confidence without the least intrusive forwardness."

Burns was eventually given a post as excise officer, which paid enough to enable him to live scantily. He died in actual want. His position in literature of Britain has been defined as a link between two eras, the inheritor of the traditions and music of the past, and the herald of the future.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. F. X. Mahoney,

Boston Health Commissioner

A CORRESPONDENT, an industrious mechanic, now sixty-five years old, writes me for an explanation of various conditions by which he is troubled. He states his age and suggests that "may be it's old age creepin' on."

Dr. Mahoney

He wrote to me suggesting that I write an article on the symptoms that he enumerated. But it was in the allusion to his age that he furnished me the text for this additional article.

I once knew a man of middle life who always had been vigorous and industrious, but who for the preceding few years had found himself unequal to his task. He had grown listless, at times nervous.

"It's no use talking, Doctor, I am really old before my time. I know right now that I am an old man."

He was right. He was prematurely an old man, for old age does not come by measurement by the almanac.

I looked over him very carefully and found pus oozing from his teeth and from his tonsils. I then, by dint of very difficult persuasion, succeeded in getting him to have them removed. When they were removed his "old age" was extracted—from his mouth. It soon afterward disappeared from his head.

The French have a saying that "a man is as old as his arteries."

The old notion that hardening of the arteries comes from the mere passing of years is disproved by the fact that, especially in these latter days, many elderly persons do not have hardened arteries.

Any form of old age that does not come within the limits of normal senectude, is either a mere state of mind or actually bodily disease.

In any event the condition is one that ought to be investigated by a careful health examination. If this precaution is taken and the results are wisely acted upon, the prematurely aged may not only take hope but actually go forward with restored strength.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Is there a hospital in or near Boston exclusively for consumptives?

H. P. A. [illegible].

Yes. The Boston Sanatorium, 249 River street, Mattapan, is maintained for the treatment of tuberculosis at the expense of the City, for Boston residents.

About six months ago a wart began to form on the upper part of my lips. I had it cut off, and after that numerous warts formed on my nose and upper lips. Please tell me how to get rid of them.

J. T. H., Boston.

It seems to me that the best thing for you to do is to go to some skin clinic and get their advice as to what is the best thing for you to do.

Do you advise operation for a chronic appendix?

F. S. A., Framingham.

I would hesitate to give you an opinion on this matter. It would be best decided by the physician in charge of your particular case, or the surgeon you decide to employ.

FINANCE

—By B. C. Forbes—

Isn't a business boom already in its first stages?

And isn't the foundation laid for important developments?

If we look beneath the surface, can we not see significance in such facts as these?

Merchandise is being delivered by the railroads in absolutely unprecedented quantity.

Employment is on the increase.

There were two price advances last week for every decline.

The country has been blessed with almost ideal weather for cereal and cotton harvesting.

Industries which have suffered most from depression are showing at least moderate signs of recovery.

"How can any business boom be near at hand when money rates are so low?" is asked.

That money rates are unusually low is, of course, the fact. Only last week Chicago banks decided to reduce interest paid on deposits from 2 to 1½ per cent. At New York there is so much idle money that reports are frequent of banks refusing large blocks of deposits. New security issues of any and every size are floated without causing the slightest ripple, and Government obligations are all selling on an extremely low income basis — the Treasury 4¼'s have touched 107.

An explanation of all this can, I believe, be furnished.

It has been the almost universal rule all over the country for many months to buy only from hand-to-mouth. This has naturally kept down borrowing by all classes of merchants and by manufacturers, for the latter have also scrupulously avoided stacking up unsold merchandise.

Grain has been rushed to market in abnormal volume. Exports of wheat have broken all records. Therefore, millions and millions of dollars have moved from the larger financial centers, where money is superabundant, to the agricultural districts, enabling farmers to pay their debts.

Cotton, too, has been sold quite freely, most of it at from 22 cents to better than 25 cents a pound. This means the distribution of large sums throughout the South.

Moreover, after what happened when the post-war boom collapsed, most business concerns determined to fortify their cash and capital position, with the result that the long period of cheap money has facilitated the raising of a very large amount of capital through bond and stock issues. Consequently the need for borrowing from banks has been drastically cut down.

Finally it would take tremendous expansion in business and inordinate foreign borrowing to make much impression upon money rates in view of our colossal stock of gold, for it forms the base for furnishing more credit than banking prudence is likely to grant.

* * *

The foregoing facts suggest this thought: If the election goes the way finance and business expect, well and good. If not, conditions never were better fortified to withstand a disappointment.

TRADE WHEELS TO SPEED UP AFTER POLL

By FRANK H. MELOON,
Financial Editor.

Business improvement generally has continued slowly but surely during the past week, with hesitancy laid at the door of what uncertainty remains regarding the outcome of the national election.

In view of optimism expressed in this column in the past regarding building operations, it is worth nothing that the total in New England for the last reported week was above $9,000,000, the largest for a like period since 1919.

The writer finds it the consensus of opinion among our business leaders that trade wheels will speed up in most lines immediately after election with the usual pre-holidays boom definitely assured.

TEXTILE GAIN HELD.

Awaiting the actual outcome of the election is characteristic of the caution exercised by successful leaders in the fields of business and finance.

The gain in operations in both the cotton and the woolen textile industries is being well held. Last Summer cotton plants were running but 60 per cent of capacity and woolen mills were down to about 50 per cent. Government figures for September show a gain in active woolen spindles of 20 per cent and in worsted spindles of 31 per cent. Cotton spindles active have gained about 22 per cent. There appears to be considerable business offering in both lines, but prices are not on a basis to show a fair profit. Both raw cotton and wool are high.

A great deal is being written about the prosperity of the farmers. The exceptions are not being generally noted. The New England potato raiser is not prospering with tubers at their present prices, and the New England apple grower is by no means getting rich through selling his crop at the quotations which prevail "down on the farm." Co-operative marketing has not failed in these commodities; it simply has not been sufficiently developed and extended. The writer hopes the coming year will see this condition remedied.

MOTOR STUDY LATE.

Restoration of the Maine Central Railroad dividend during the past week pointed to the improvement effected for New England railroads, as did also the earnings figures of the New Haven and the Boston and Maine.

In studying motor-truck competition, the last named railroad is taking a wise but belated step. It is in the writer's memory that Vice-President Fort suggested such a step a good many months ago.

* * *

Harvard Economic Service says: "A very easy money market, expanding manufacturing output, a well maintained volume of distribution and favorable conditions in agriculture form the chief features in the present situation. Business is still hesitant after the serious recession of the Spring and Summer; but improvement has appeared, affecting many lines in which conditions have been the least satisfactory, and, barring serious political developments, may be expected to continue."

STOCK PRICES ARE MIXED IN NEW YORK

In pre-holiday trading on the New York Stock Exchange prices steadied after the first batch of profit-taking sales had been absorbed and the general market pointed upward around noon.

Speculative activity, however, was confined to a relatively few issues. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe was run up to 122¾ at the expense of an over-crowded short interest and American Can moved up to 137⅛.

U. S. Steel and Baldwin failed to make much progress on the rally, but selling of these shares was well absorbed. Food shares showed uniform strength.

International Harvester, with a gain of 3⅛ points, and Commercial Solvents B, with a gain of 2, were among the outstanding strong spots.

Sears Roebuck, Utah Copper and Colorado Fuel were heavy. Call money renewed at 2½ per cent.

On the Boston Stock Exchange Pacific Mills advanced 2 points. Edison sold a point higher. Other changes locally were nearly all up fractionally.

Boston Notes

MEETING of stockholders of the Edison Company of Boston to act upon proposed 20 per cent. stock increase has been postponed to November 5.

IN MONTH just closed Island Creek Coal produced approximately 525,000 tons of coal. This compares with 493,000 tons in September, and is another new high record.

ISLAND CREEK is producing at the rate of almost 1,600,000 tons of coal for current quarter, compared with actual production in third quarter of 1,424,403 tons.

IPSWICH has awarded to Old Colony Trust Co., at three per cent discount plus $1.25 premium $42,000 notes.

"BARRON sticks to 10,000,000 Coolidge plurality" is caption of article in the Boston News Bureau.

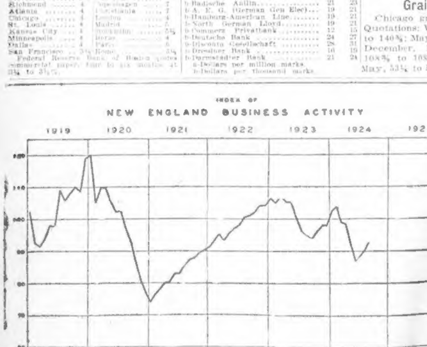
PRACTICALLY all bus lines operated by Massachusetts street railroad companies are said in usually well informed circles to be running at a loss.

QUOTATIONS LOWERED ON COTTON FUTURES

New York cotton futures quotations were lowered. Prices: December 22.82, off .03; January 22.85, off .17; March 23.20, off .07; May 23.44, off .03; July 23.23, off .02.

Grains Are Lower

Chicago grain prices were lower. Quotations: Wheat—December, 140⅛ to 140⅜; May, 145½ to 145¾. Corn—December, 105¼ to 105¾; May, 108⅜ to 108¾; July, 109¼. Oats—May, 53⅛ to 53½.



Federal Reserve Bank of Boston computations furnish material for this trade chart, which the bank calls an index of New England business activity. This index does not represent business profits, prosperity or the value of trade. It is a composite of 13 quantity measures of distribution, production, building and other phases of business activity. Allowance has been made for the usual seasonal variations found in each case.

Try This on Your Own Radio Set on Tuesday Night

Compile your own election returns.

By using the form printed below it will be possible for radio fans to determine which way the election is swinging and how the votes compare with the result of the presidential election four years ago.

First, clip the form below and put it where it will be convenient on Tuesday night. Then, after adjusting your earphones in time to catch the first election bulletin when the vote counters are completing their work, mark in the column beside each State the number of votes cast for each presidential candidate. As the returns come in and you mark the form you will see how the vote battle is progressing and how the voters used the ballot in comparison with 1920.

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS—Division of Metropolitan Planning. Chapter 54 of the Resolves of the General Court of the year 1924 reads as follows: Resolve directing the Division of Metropolitan Planning of the Metropolitan District Commission further to consider questions relative to the laying out and financing of Boulevards, Parkways and Improved Traffic Routes within the Metropolitan District. Resolved, That the Division of Metropolitan Planning of the Metropolitan District Commission is hereby directed further to consider present methods of laying out and financing boulevards, parkways and improved traffic routes in the metropolitan district; the advisability of any changes in such methods or in the division and apportionment of the cost thereof; the advisability of providing for the laying out of boulevards, parkways and improved traffic routes for future development in order thereby to restrict building over the proposed routes and prevent the payment of excessive costs; and such other matters relating to the above problems as it may deem proper. Said division shall include its findings and recommendations relative to the subject-matter of this resolve in its annual report for the current year. Approved May 28, 1924. Upon the foregoing resolve, the Division of Metropolitan Planning will hold a public hearing at Room 460, State House, on Monday, November 10, 1924, at 2:30 P. M. HENRY I. HARRIMAN, Chairman. Nov. 3, 1924.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS—Division of Metropolitan Planning. Chapter 51 of the Resolves of the General Court of the year 1924 reads as follows: Resolve providing for an investigation as to the widening of River street, in the Hyde Park and Mattapan Districts of the City of Boston. Resolved, that the division of metropolitan planning of the Metropolitan District Commission is hereby directed to consider the subject matter of current House Document No. 219 and to report its findings and recommendations in relation thereto in full to the next General Court on or before January tenth, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, with drafts of such legislation as may be necessary to carry its recommendations into effect. Approved May 28, 1924. Upon foregoing resolve the Division of Metropolitan Planning will hold a public hearing at Room 460, State House, on Monday, November 10, 1924, at 2:00 p. m. HENRY I. HARRIMAN, Chairman. Nov. 3, 1924.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS—Division of Metropolitan Planning. Chapter 28 of the Resolves of the General Court of the year 1924 reads as follows: Resolve providing for an investigation relative to certain street improvements in Cambridge and Somerville. Resolved, that the metropolitan planning division of the metropolitan district commission be hereby authorized and directed to investigate the subject matter of current House Bill No. 1024, entitled "An act providing for the widening and construction of Broadway and Hampshire street in Cambridge and Beacon street in Somerville and Cambridge," and to report the results of its investigation, with drafts of any proposed legislation, to the General Court not later than the first Wednesday in January, nineteen hundred and twenty-five. Approved April 29, 1924. Upon the foregoing resolve, the Division of Metropolitan Planning will hold a public hearing at Room 460, State House, on Monday, November 10, 1924, at 2:00 p. m. HENRY I. Look on the Windshield for Certificate

Every used car advertised on this page has undergone a rigid inspection. The Boston American employs expert mechanics to make these tests.

Only an "INSPECTED" car can receive the blue certificate of inspection. It is your protection and safeguard.

If you do not see the blue Certificate on the windshield of the car you want to buy, ask the dealer to have an inspection made, by telephoning the Boston American, Liberty 4000. No charge nor obligation.

Cars which pass our inspection are, of course, the good cars. Thus, the list below contains the pick of the USED CAR market in Boston. All types of cars, at all prices, and all inspected.

The Boston American will help you select a Used Car Bargain at just the price you can afford to pay.

SAMUEL GOMPERS PLEADS FOR THE CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

Massachusetts mill owners are fighting the Child Labor Amendment in that State to bolster their child labor mills in the South.

All of the arguments against the Child Labor Amendment, as they are put forth by the great textile interests, go back to what this industry believes to be its selfish economic interests. I can imagine no more inhumane motive for this opposition to the well-being of American childhood than the purely profit-making motive. It is to be hoped that the great masses of the people of Massachusetts will not be misled by the selfish propaganda of mill interests which are seeking to sway the vote in that State in order to protect their child labor factories elsewhere.--Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor.

Re-Elect Senator Walsh

The proof of a man's worth lies not in what he says, but in what he does!

Six years ago the voters of Massachusetts selected David I. Walsh, their former Governor, to protect the interests of the Bay State in the United States Senate.

What has Senator Walsh accomplished in the five years and eight months that have passed since he took his seat in the Senate?

War veterans have a ready answer. In 1921 he amazed his older senatorial colleagues by his "effrontery" in waging war on shabby treatment accorded to sick and disabled veterans. But out of his battle emerged the new United States Veterans' Bureau.

Two years later, on the eve of adjournment, "Dave" Walsh demanded and secured an investigation of graft and corruption in the bureau, resulting in Director Forbes being removed.

He was a leader in the battle for a soldiers' bonus and secured other benefits for the soldiers who risked all.

He opened the fight for increased pay to postal employes, a bill that was vetoed by Calvin Coolidge, the Republican President.

He is the only Massachusetts Senator who ever supported the Woman Suffrage Amendment.

He attempted to have Federal Constitution Amendments passed on by the voters of the States themselves rather than by Legislatures.

In recognition of the sturdy immigrants who have adopted America and made of themselves substantial and desirable citizens, he opposed immigration laws that discriminate unfairly.

The sales, theatre and auto repair taxes were opposed by Senator Walsh.

Massachusetts voters have not forgotten the coal famine and sky-rocketing prices. For more than a year Senator Walsh has waged bitter war against the close corporation of coal barons. He is in the midst of that fight now. Should not Massachusetts keep him in the fray?

He has consistently fought all tariffs tending to raise living costs of the "regular people."

"Thou shalt not tax the food of the poor except over my most vigorous protest and unrelenting opposition," he warned the Senate.

His whole attitude and action have been: "Thou shalt not tax any commodities of the people in the interest of maintaining high profits for a few."

Even the practice of watering stock by public service corporations, resulting in the public paying high prices to furnish dividends on the "consolidated" capital, has not escaped his attention and his enmity.

Of the great mass of people, Senator David I. Walsh, through his very instinct, is for the great mass of people.

Reared in poverty, he knows its bite. He has done, and is doing, all in his power for the best interests of the people who sent him to the Senate.

His accomplishments are the best proof and reason why the voters of the Bay State, men and women, should re-elect him tomorrow as their Senator.

Election Forecasts

Highest Political Authorities Predict Certain Outcomes

The final election returns will not be in until Thursday night, but the very highest political authorities predict the following certain outcomes:

Coolidge will be elected President. Davis will be elected President. La Follette will be elected President.

The election of Coolidge, thus assured, will mean the continuance of tariff rates as high as the present, or higher; and the Republican triumph will leave the powers of the Supreme Court untouched. The election of Davis, thus assured, will precipitate a drastic revision of all tariff schedules. The election of La Follette, thus assured, will mean a cut in the tariff schedules and a start towards a Constitutional amendment, giving Congress power to override Supreme Court vetoes on legislation.

The only details lacking are the allocation of living quarters in the White House, and the division of Presidential functions among the three successful candidates.

Poor Chinese, Starved

But There Are Lands Elsewhere

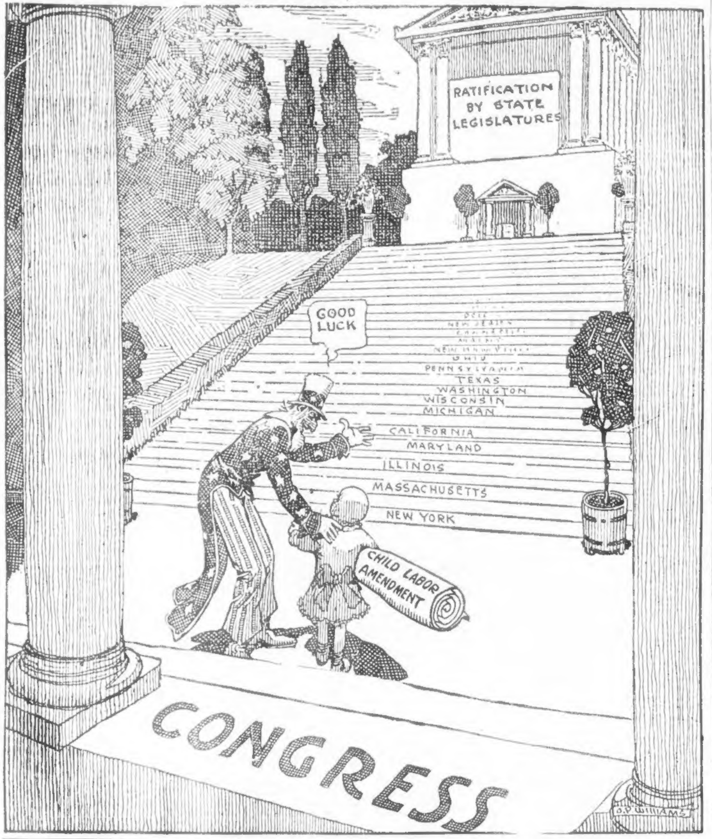
One Chinese smuggled into the United States in a packing case arrived DEAD. He had died of starvation on the way over.

Six others similarly smuggled were weak from starvation.

This eagerness to enter America, "the promised land," in spite of laws against Asiatic immigration is pitiful. But there are lands elsewhere, millions of acres of them in Asia, that need cultivating and that are neglected.

This country will be European OR Asiatic. It could not permanently be European if Asiatic immigration were allowed unrestricted. And the only fair restriction is ABSOLUTE RESTRICTION.

It's Your Turn, Massachusetts!



A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

EVERY girl in these days seems to be obsessed with the "gimmes."

* * *

From the moment she is old enough to put out her tiny baby-hand and grasp things, "Gimme!" is her slogan.

* * *

Her first intelligible utterance is "Gimme, gimme, gimme!"

Helen Rowland

And, what every man secretly yearns to find, and thinks he could fondly cherish, forever, is a woman to whom he doesn't HAVE to give things.

* * *

Not that the average man doesn't delight in giving things to a woman. He does! But it's HAVING to give them that shocks, annoys, and galls him to rebellion.

* * *

He enjoys playing "Fairy Godfather" to the woman he loves—waving a wand and making things spring into existence for her. He likes to see her eyes shine with amazement and devotion when he brings her home a leopard skin coat that makes her look like a jungle terror; but there is nothing sensational or picturesque about paying the bill for a set of sables that she picked out herself.

* * *

He would rather make her a "present" of a fifty-dollar hat that makes her look like a "lost hope," than hand her five dollars with which to buy a hat that fits the human head.

* * *

He just dotes on "surprising" her with a hundred-dollar mah-jong set when she has been hinting all Summer for a wrist watch, or nagging him for a month for a new robe for the car.

* * *

He can't understand why she doesn't greet him with a glad cry of welcoming delight when he comes in with a five-pound box of chocolate creams, the day after the doctor has put her on a reducing diet of carrots and lettuce leaves.

* * *

He simply cannot perceive why she doesn't glow with enthusiasm when he takes the money they have been saving for a new set of stuffed furniture and slips out and invests it in some nice railroad stock for her.

* * *

He can't comprehend why she looks so shocked when he hands her a silver punch bowl for Christmas, instead of the check for a new evening gown, for which she asked.

* * *

THAT'S the RUB—ASKING for things! A man would joyously GIVE a woman anything on earth—from his heart to a grand piano—if she didn't ask for it, first. He wants to "bestow" things on her.

* * *

Even before marriage he loves to think of himself as "bestowing" his attentions, his affections, HIMSELF upon her. He'd balk at the very altar, if he suspected that she had to WRENCH a proposal from him.

* * *

And, after marriage, lots of women would go about like "September Morn," if they did not accept all their clothes as "presents."

* * *

What every man dreams of marrying is a sweet little thing, who will look up to him as a Lord Bountiful, a miracle-worker, accept everything she gets with childish glee, and go through life crying "Goody, goody, goody!"

* * *

Every day is Christmas day, to HIM!

Expecting Sixth Child

Helping Hand Editor:

I am the mother of five children, three boys, 14, 12 and 9 years old, and two girls, 5 and 2½ years. I am expecting another visit from the stork soon and have nothing ready for it, nor no means to get anything. My husband left me last May. I get aid from the city, but it is so small that at times I don't have enough to eat. I would like Winter clothing for all the children. We will be glad to receive anything. MRS. N. R.

Jacquette and Cap

Helping Hand Editor:

I have a jacquette, very warm, size 38, and cap to match, also some waists and a warm bathrobe, which some schoolgirl might like.

MRS. R. A. C.

Many thanks. E. M., a young schoolgirl, will appreciate this offering, I am sure.

Widow of 70 in Need

Helping Hand Editor:

Would you please try and get help for a poor widow seventy years old, who needs clothes for the Winter and who is back in her rent, also a sick brother, who lives with her, who is nearly as old as she and not able to work owing to bad health. Anything in the line of clothing for both would be acceptable. He wears shoes 8½ and she wears 5½. Clothes both of medium size. MRS. K. D.

Need Clothes and Shoes

Helping Hand Editor:

I have five children, two boys, 6 and 2 years, and three girls, 11, 9 and 3 years of age. As my husband is out of work, I have no money to buy the children clothes. They are all in need of everything, as well as myself. I take size 38. Shoes the children take are sizes 1, 12 and 8 for the girls, and 9 and 2 for the boys. I take size 4.

MRS. W. H. G.

Seeking Home

Helping Hand Editor:

I want to get in touch with a lonely man or woman in a comfortable home. I am a woman thirty-nine, with the best of character, high school education, understand the management of a nice home, such as I have had to break up. I have some business training, experienced as philanthropic and charity worker and, of course, a lot of experience in child training, as I have three dear, sunshiny, little folks of my own. What I wish is a real home, where I may have my three children of school age with me. I expect very small pay, or will take any position that will pay $15 for six days' work from 8 or 9 to 5:30 p. m. I love my kiddies dearly and only want enough to furnish us all with a decent shelter and a little money for clothes, etc. MRS. I. M.

Boston.

Wants Christmas Cards

Helping Hand Editor:

I am out of work owing to having a very sick child, which finally had to be taken to the hospital. If some of the kind readers could buy $1 worth of Christmas cards from me I would give them good value and it would help me over this crisis until my child is out of danger and I can go out to work again. J. B.

Safeguard the Children

By GEORGE W. COLEMAN,
Director Ford Hall Forum, Boston.

WHO is so hard-boiled as to defend child labor in factory, mine or shop?

Who is so soft as to want to forbid boys and girls from working around the house and doing the chores on the farm?

Who supposes for one moment that the Congress of the United States, given the power to decide, would risk its hopes of re-election by flying in the face of this overwhelming, sound public opinion?

There are some sections of the country and a few people in all parts of the country who are willing to rob little children of their birthright for the sake of a dollar.

But why let any of them anywhere get away with it?

There are also misguided people here and there who ignorantly free their children from every form of work and service and then marvel that they grow up to be good-for-nothing.

But why suppose that the American people, through their Congress, would enforce any such stupidity?

The Child Labor Amendment, now before the voters of Massachusetts, gives Congress the power to deal with this question as it affects children up to and including seventeen years of age.

There is not the remotest danger that Congress will go too far in the use of this power. The whole difficulty will be in getting Congress to go far enough.

We have been told again and again by well-known employers and business men and by the special attorneys, whom they have hired to represent them at such hearings, that our mills and shops would be compelled to close down or go elsewhere if we continued to impose restrictions here which were not in force elsewhere.

This is the contention of those who oppose restrictive legislation. I have seen more than one letter to this effect from Massachusetts business men. It has not been unusual for these men, in the recent past, to say that if we are to have such legislation it should be nation-wide instead of merely State legislation, so that business in all parts of the country would face equal conditions.

This again is the contention of business men who have opposed some of the restrictive laws of this State. And when it has been suggested that, instead of combatting laws which the conscience of Massachusetts clearly favors, business men and all others should combine to secure the passage of Federal laws which would bear equally on all, our business men have agreed with that statement.

For some strange reason these same men are now out in opposition to the proposed Child Labor Law, not only in itself, but chiefly because it is a Federal law!

A good many people have felt that Massachusetts, under these laws, was at a disadvantage in competition with other States which had no such laws.

It is said that there is considerable money being spent to defeat this referendum.

I do not know. I do not believe that the spending of this money is based on interest in child welfare or that it rests upon love for the United States and its institutions. My guess is that the people who are putting up this money against this proposed amendment are doing so because they fear that the passage of such a law will mean a loss to their pocketbooks so large that it is worth their while to spend the money they are spending in opposing the law!

Is there some such economic motive behind the opposition to the Child Labor Amendment? I do not know. However, when I find hundreds of men doing the same thing at the same time, and when that thing is different from what they felt like doing a year ago, I conclude that they are being told what to say and do and how to say and do it by some one who is interested in having these things said and done in this particular way!

I for one am going to vote for the Child Labor amendment, for I am tired of having our State, our mills, our ships at a disadvantage in competition with other States. I am now taking the position that our hard-headed employers and manufacturers took before some central propaganda source put a new song in their mouths.

USE MULE POWER

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THERE'S a deal of talk about will power among uplifters and advisers and exhorters and all the rest of the hecklers of poor, wabbly humanity. There are books on the development of the will, books widely advertised and presumably widely read. Also, books on the diseases of the will.

But there's something much more essential to success here below and salvation up yonder than will power.

It is won't power.

And I'll tell you a secret.

Only the exceptional character has a dominant will. Only a few have will power. But every mother's son of us has won't power aplenty.

Even weaklings. Even we drifty, yielding, oh-be-a-good-fellow, anything-to-be-agreeable, go-with-the-crowd boys and girls—we can be just as strong in our won'ts as the supermen are in their wills.

That's the beauty of it. The good God has so ordered things that the least and peakedest of us can save ourselves as well as the mightiest and greatest. Because all we have to do is DO NOTHING.

To keep out of the horrible pits that beset the human path, all that's necessary is NOT to walk into them.

For instance, the way to quit drinking is simply NOT TO DRINK.

That's all.

Easy!

It does not require struggle and prayer and courage and a grand character and will power. A man can have all these and use them and still coast uninterruptedly down the alcoholic slide.

What it takes to quit, and stay quit, is won't power.

Plain stubbornness.

Mule power.

Behold the mule. As a won'ter he has no equal. Except maybe a woman. Take him for your ideal. Set yourself. Balk!

Say: "They can lead me to the bar, but they can't make me drink. I can suffer. I can crave. I can die. But no power in heaven, on earth, or under the earth can make me swallow the stuff if I simply WON'T."

No matter how vacillating you are, how much of a spineless imbecile and moral wreck you are, there's one thing you can do as powerfully and irresistibly as Julius Caesar or Napoleon—you can NOT do a thing.

If you'll just see this, and believe it, it may be worth a million dollars to you.

To get out of the spider's web, to get your feet out of the quicksand that's engulfing you, all you have to do is—not anything grand and noble and pious and pure—but just simply use your stubbornness.

USE YOUR MULE POWER.

Glory be to stubbornness!
